Stone vessels in siltstone are first found in the Statues of the deceased were placed in the tomb to serve as a surrogate for the physical body, and as such could receive offerings.

Having previously been the preserve of the king and his family, non-royal tombs began to be equipped with such statues, both in wood and stone, during the 4th Dynasty, with the practice becoming widespread in elite burials by the 6th Dynasty. The present lot was originally carved from a single piece of wood, of a type probably indigenous to the Nile Valley, such as acacia or sycamore. The hole in the centre of the stomach may indicate where the knot of the kilt would have been inserted - this was often separately carved.

Depictions of human-headed crocodiles are rare. Crocodile gods such as Sobek are usually shown either wholly as a crocodile, or as a crocodile-headed human, i.e. the opposite of the present lot.
The oldest representation of a crocodile with a human head appears to be a vignette belonging to Spell 88 of the Book of the Dead of Neferrenpet, who lived during the reign of Ramesses II. In this 'spell for assuming the form of a crocodile', the deceased identifies himself with the god Sobek, who is feared by all. The present lot is perhaps to be interpreted along the same lines and may have served as an apotropaic amulet.

Van Dijk tentatively dated the present lot to the New Kingdom, citing the facial characteristics and hairstyle of the head. In support of a later date are the few known representations of human-headed crocodiles, which are thought to have been composite deities such as Sobek-Osiris and Sobek-Re, and which all date to the Late Period; see a dark-green serpentine human-headed crocodile said to have come from Fayum and currently in Budapest (Musée Hongrois des Beaux Arts, inv. no. 51.329), which is similar to the present lot, and L. Kákosy, Bronze weights were hollow-cast and then filled with lead to bring the piece up to the necessary weight. Found predominately during the early New Kingdom, they were largely eschewed after this period, probably as it was realised that over time corrosion rendered them untrustworthy. Such weights were most commonly in the form of domestic and semi-domestic animals, such as cattle or bulls, which themselves were symbols of prosperity and thus a fitting match for ascertaining value (S. K. Doll, in Egypt's Golden Age: The Art of Living in the New Kingdom, Boston, 1982, p.61-2). The present lot, with its unusual subject and lively manner, is an exquisite and rare example of the genre.

Constance Goddard DuBois was a historical novelist, ethnographer, member of the American Anthropological Association and keen advocate for Native American rights. She travelled with her husband to Egypt between 1900-1906, forming a small collection of Egyptian antiquities whilst there; a note from 1906 records her acquisition of the present lot as 'Beard of mummy, gilded'.

During the late 18th-19th Dynasties, shabti figures wearing the dress of daily life were introduced. They showed the deceased as a person dressed in the fashionable, contemporary clothing of an upper-class Egyptian – for example, heavily-pleated garments, shawls, skirts, duplex wigs and sandals. This development coincided with, and was potentially inspired by, the manner in which Akhenaten was choosing to represent himself, which was also a break with the past. For example, at his Jubilee Temple in Thebes he is shown in the typical shabti pose, with arms crossed, holding divine symbols, and with the lower part of his body clothed in the dress of everyday life. For a similar shabti wearing the costume of the living with a Ba-bird at the chest, see H. D. Schneider, Shabtis, II, Netherlands, 1977, p.84, no.3.2.5.13, pl. 31.

E. Ertman, “Dead as a Duck: A Royal Offering Scene?”, in G. Knoppers and A. Hirsch (eds),
Egypt, Israel, and the Ancient Mediterranean
World: Studies in Honor of Donald Bruce Ertman highlights how offering scenes with birds with open wings are found only in royal commissions, specifically in temple contexts; for example, similar iconography is found in the Temple of Hatshepsut at Deir el Bahari (pp. 196-197). A dating to the reign of Akhenaten is supported by the shape of the trussed duck and by the fact that the birds are not separated in space but instead are intermingled with each other (ibid, p.200).

Provenance
Hermopolis, El Ashmunein, Egypt.
Private collection, Principality of Liechtenstein.

Published

Between 1929 and 1939 the German archaeological expedition in Hermopolis unearthed more than 1200 Amarna-period talatat blocks. Dating from the reign of Akhenaten, they were originally made for the temples of Tell el-Amarna and later re-used as construction material in buildings of Ramesses II in the downriver town of Hermopolis. When publishing the reliefs in 1969, Roeder found around 300 additional talatat fragments in American private collections that were added to the main corpus, this relief being one of them.

The reign of Akhenaten marks an important break in Egyptian history as the pharaoh introduced a radical programme of religious and artistic reformation. At the death of his father Amenhotep III, he changed his name to Akhenaten and moved the capital to the new city of Akhetaten, modern Tell el-Amarna. He ruled from there together with his wife, Queen Nefertiti. The aim of his reform was to substitute the traditional polytheism for a new monotheistic cult centred around the deified sun disc, Aten. For further, see R. E. Freed, Y. J. Markowitz and S. H. D’Auria, Pharaohs of the Sun. Akhenaten, Nefertiti, Tutankhamen, London, 1999, pp.17-28.

This relief reflects the new ideas introduced by Akhenaten by presenting his new name, which included the name of the new god Aten, together with a probable reference to his queen Nefertiti. The talatat-stone format was itself an innovation introduced by Akhenaten, probably in order to speed his construction works. It was a standardised stone measuring 52 by 26 by 24 centimetres, small enough for a single worker to carry.

Count de La Lanne-Mirrlees was an author, herald to the Queen and former office of arms at the College of Arms in London, as well as Baron of Inchdrewer and Laird of Bernera. He is most remembered for his correspondence with Ian Fleming, and the role he took in developing Fleming’s James Bond character, a fellow Scottish aristocrat. In fact, Bond’s cover as genealogist Sir Hilary Bray in On Her Majesty’s Secret Service (1963) is said to have been inspired by the Count’s role as heraldic researcher at the College of Arms.

It has been suggested that this relief might fall into the category identified by Schulman as ‘ex-votos of the poor’ (A. R. Schulman, ‘Ex-votos of the Poor’, in Journal of the American Research Center in Egypt, vol. 6, 1967, pp. 153-156). Ex-votos were donated as a tangible declaration of faith or gratitude towards a deity, and bore the representation of the god, often accompanied by a short inscription with the god’s name or epithet. Probably produced for the lower classes, they were sometimes the product of re-carving pre-existing reliefs or stone fragments, as could be the case with the present lot.

There appears to have been a period of confusion between the end of the sole reign of queen Twosret, and the accession of Sethakht, though it is not clear for how long this period of instability lasted, or how widespread it was. Also largely unknown is how Setnakht came to the throne, or his background. He is thought to have reigned for only about three years. The Great Harris Papyrus, dating to the reign of Ramesses III some 65 years later, describes how he ended the rebellions of the period, relieved besieged cities, reopened temples and secured their revenues, and generally restored the country's stability. A similar block relief with cartouches of Ramesses II on three sides was discovered in Thebes, though this is a foundation block, unlike the present lot (see B. Letellier, Ramses le Grand, Paris, 1976, pp.45-46, no.7).

The menat was an elaborate necklace of multiple string beads, which as well as being worn could be shaken ritualistically to emit a rattling noise used to accompany song and dance, usually in honour of the goddess Hathor. Their heavy weight necessitated a counterpoise, which was worn between the shoulder blades. Menat counterpoises in amuletic form are found from the New Kingdom onwards, with the most ornate examples dating to the TIP. Bastet, along with the other goddesses found on such amulets, had powerful protective powers and connotations of fertility. See C. Andrews, *Amulets of Ancient Unusually, this amulet is modelled such that the Bastet’s head is fully rendered whether looked at frontally or in profile.

The short reign of Wahibre was marked by military problems in both Egypt as well as abroad. Civil war broke out upon the return of the survivors of the Egyptian army that had been defeated by the Dorian Greek invaders of Libya. The army rebelled against the pharaoh under the leadership of a victorious veteran general, the future Ahmose II. The two sides met in 570 B.C. and Wahibre was killed. He was buried at Sais, probably the royal cemetery for the 26th Dynasty. For further, see P. Clayton, Chronicle of the Pharaohs, London, 1994, pp.196-197.

The Egyptian god Ptah was revered under many aspects, including those of a creator god, and a god who listens to individuals’ prayers;
indeed, Ptah’s name was commonly accompanied by the epithet Nefer-Her, ‘Merciful of Face’. He was also the chief god of Memphis, Egypt’s capital city, and patron of creative craftsmen. As god of craftsmanship, Ptah was believed to have created the world through his thoughts and creative word. Ptah is easy identifiable by his tight-fitting cap, his straight beard and mummiform clothing.

The detail of the top of the was-sceptre standing proud from the god’s chest, and meeting the tip of his false beard, is quite unusual.
For bronzes with the same feature, see an example in the Walters Art Museum, MA, acc. no. 54.1017, where the god holds a composite sceptre combining the was with an ankh and djed symbol, the World
Museum, Liverpool, M11386, and the Ashmolean Museum, Oxford, AN1986.50. This aspect imitates the depiction of Ptah in wall reliefs, where the god is shown in profile and the was-sceptre is held away from the body, so as to be seen clearly by the viewer.

The 26th Dynasty, or the so-called Saite Period (named as the capital was at this time in the city of Sais in the Nile Delta), was a time of great prosperity, stability and, consequently, artistic endeavour. The style of the period is characterised by reverence for the traditional canons of proportion, and an emerging desire for realism, resulting in sculpture which is full of character.

The present lot belongs to a well-known category of sculptures, often referred to as the “egg-head” type; they depict priests of religious cults, instantly recognisable by their shaven heads. The stone used here was clearly carefully selected, and the sculptor made sensitive use of the pink, speckled part of the material, incorporating it into the back of the head, leaving the face uncompromised by the change in colour. For another Late Period granite male head, predominately black in colour with pink aspects, see Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond, no. 69.51. See also R. Fazzini, Images for Eternity, Egyptian Art from Berkeley and Brooklyn, New York, 1975, cat. 104a, p. 121, for a priest head with very similar treatment of the eyes, brows and upper lids.

Jackal figures such as this depicted Anubis, the Egyptian god who guarded the secret rites of mummmification and revivification, and the journey of the deceased into the afterlife. This wood figure was made to sit atop a funerary shrine or coffin, thereby providing extra protection for the deceased; his alert ears add to his characterisation as an attentive guardian. The Ba was the soul of the deceased, which was thought to leave the physical body upon death in order to join the sun god in the sky. On account of this, it was usually represented as a bird, often with a human head or arms. In order to ensure eternal life, the Ba had to periodically return to the burial chamber to be reunited with the mummy, as only the regular reuniting of body and soul could ensure the deceased's ongoing existence in the afterlife.

Private collection, Midwest USA, acquired in 2007.

Stift Neuberg was privately-owned from 1798 until 1926 and a collection of antiquities had been formed by 1893 when the Greek and Roman collection were published. It is believed that the amphora was acquired along with the rest of the collection by Friedrich Alexander von Bernus (1838-1908), who had inherited Stift Neuberg from his relative Johann Friedrich Schlosser (1780-1851), a nephew of Goethe. The abbey was sold to the Benedictines in 1926 and has remained a religious establishment since then.

TWO EGYPTIAN GOLD
SQUATTING FIGURES
PTOLEMAIC PERIOD-ROMAN PERIOD,
CIRCA 3RD-1ST CENTURY B.C.
The dwarf-like figures with their hands on bent knees, filigree in a triangular shape to indicate the genital area and in a band across the chest, the rounded face with a wreath across the forehead with central rosette, pierced laterally at elbow height, 2.3cm and 2cm high

€920 - 1,400
US$1,000 - 1,500
Provenance
Private collection, Europe, acquired 1930s; and thence by descent to the present owner.

These figures show similarities with a group of gold jewellery from the South of Italy, especially in the treatment of the rosette on the forehead and the filigree; see D. Williams and J. Ogden, Greek Gold Jewellery of the Classical World, London, 1994, pp.199-221. The lateral piercing suggests these elements were once incorporated into a necklace.

68
AN EGYPTIAN GOLD
AMULET OF SOBEK-RE
LATE PERIOD, CIRCA 664-332 B.C.
The crocodile god depicted striding forward with his tail bent, the head raised, crowned with a sun disc and uraeus, 2cm long
£1,000 - 1,500
€1,100 - 1,700
US$1,300 - 1,900
Provenance
Private collection, Europe, acquired 1930s; and thence by descent to the present owner.

The crocodile god Sobek was worshiped in the region of Thebes and particularly in the Fayum. Bronze figures of Sobek-Re, wearing the sun disc and uraeus, were offered in the sanctuaries of the region. One example is now in the Louvre, see P. Germond, An Egyptian Bestiary, London, 2001, pp. 172-174. Crocodile amulets were also offered in funerary ceremonies for protection from water-borne perils. The lack of suspension loop or piercing suggests this amulet was placed within the mummy wrappings.

AN EGYPTIAN WOOD SARCOPHAGUS PANEL FOR TA-HERET
PTOLEMAIC PERIOD, CIRCA 332-30 B.C.

Preserving one vertical line of hieroglyphs, reading ‘A Royal Offering Formula to Osiris, Foremost of the West, Great God, Lord of Abydos, that he may give a good burial, bread and beer, oxen and fowl, to the God's Mother of Hathor Ta-heret, daughter of the Sa-mer-ef priest, Servant of Neith, in charge of the God’s Corpse, God’s Servant of Herishef, the King of the Two Lands, the holder of the Throne, Wah-ib-re, (and) born of the Sistrum-player of Herishef Nebet(?)-...”.

178cm high

£30,000 - 40,000
€34,000 - 46,000
US$39,000 - 51,000

Provenance

Ta-heret’s priestess title of God’s Mother of Hathor is found from the Late Period onwards around Edfu, a city on the west bank of the Nile, between Esna and Aswan. Interestingly, her father, Wah-ib-re, was the Sa-mer-ef priest, a title found in Hermopolis, and where Herishef was the local god. This difference suggests that Ta-heret moved from her father’s household to a far-away city, perhaps as a result of marriage. The text on this panel may have originally been ornamented with glazed polychrome inlay.

Merton D. Simpson was an abstract expressionist painter and noted African and tribal art collector and dealer. His own Modern work was widely exhibited, firstly at the Museum of Modern Art in 1951. The Brooklyn Museum archives hold numerous letters between Mr Simpson and various curators of the Egyptian department from 1972 onwards, including a note from Bernard Bothmer confirming the Museum’s acquisition of a granite lion head from Mr Simpson (acc. no. 73.26).

For an example of another relief depicting part of the temple ritual of the Ptolemaic Period, showing Ptolemy II presenting offerings, cf. The Walters Museum, Baltimore, acc. no. 22.200. Carving in deep sunken relief such as the present lot was preserved for decorating the outside of the temple, where the carving created dark shadows in the bright sunlight and made for a more arresting and dynamic image.

Amulets in the form of two animals’ foreparts joined back to back are thought to have been linked to regeneration, with the central suspension loop perhaps indicating the sun and its daily traverse across the sky. Three-dimensional bunches of grapes in blue faience were a highly symbolic architectural ornament in the 18th Dynasty (B. Crowell, Gifts of the Nile, London, 1998, p.189). This grape cluster was modified for suspension after moulding - the upper half of the reverse was cut away, and the front side pierced for attachment. Clusters of this form have been found at the sites of numerous New Kingdom royal palaces. It is thought they decorated important royal buildings and shrines; for example, a temple relief dating to the reign of Amenhotep II shows a row of grape clusters hanging from the royal kiosk. In addition to signifying 'fertility and well-being', pendant grapes 'may have become an emblem of royal and divine superiority' (ibid.).

Game tables such as this are thought to have been part of the funerary offerings during the Archaic period in Attica. Miniature clay tables have been found in offering deposits at the Kerameikos and at Vari, with figures of weeping mourners on the top. In both cases they were accompanied by small clay dice, leading to their interpretation as game tables (D. C. Kurtz and J. Boardman, Greek Burial Customs, London, 1971, pp.76-79). It has been suggested that their presence in funerary contexts reflects how the Greeks of this period saw board games as a metaphor for life and death (see H. Whittaker, ‘Board games and funerary symbolism in Greek and Roman contexts’ in Papers and Monographs from the Norwegian Institute at Athens, vol. 7, 2005, p.281). A close example is in the National Museum of Denmark in Copenhagen - see J. Lund and B. Rasmussen, Antiksamlingen: græskere, etruskere, romere, Copenhagen, 1994, p. 64.

The pilos-type helmet is derived from a felt cap of similar shape, often seen in depictions of travellers and herdsmen, which may have also been worn beneath these helmets for added comfort. Such helmets were first used in Sparta at the end of the 5th Century B.C., as the Peloponnesian War drew to a close. These lighter, simpler helmets offered all-round vision, as well as being cheaper to make, an important consideration in a period when the Greek city-states were recruiting more men from the lower social classes. The present helmet was once adorned with several decorative elements, of which only the attachment rivets now remain. For further, see G. Waurick, ‘Helme der Hellenistischen zeit und ihre vorlaeufer’ in A. Bottini, Antike Helme, Mainz, 1988, p.151-158.

It has been suggested that the present lot has close links with the Three-Dot Group and in particular a neck-amphora from the Three-Dot Group, cf. A. D. Trendall, The Red-figured Vases of Lucania, Campania and Sicily, Oxford, 1967, no.333a, Suppl. 1, p.47, pl.IX, 5. The facial features of Hermes in the above lot resemble those of the nude woman on the obverse of 333a, the draped youths on the reverse sides of both amphorae are related, and the floral decoration beneath the handles is almost identical. A connection to the Parrish Group has also been suggested.

Provenance

Anonymous sale; Sotheby’s, New York, 14 December 1993, lot 48.
S. Carroll collection, New York, until 2016.

The present lot is a Roman copy of an original work by Praxiteles, dating to around 380-370 B.C., which once stood in the street of the Tripods at the foot of the Acropolis in Athens. The complete statue showed the young satyr pouring wine from his raised right hand into a dish held in his outstretched left hand, and is notable, besides the idealised youthful beauty of the satyr, for its peaceful, serene character.
Judging by the numerous high-quality Roman copies that have survived, Praxiteles’ work was greatly admired by Roman society, and we can presume that these later statues adorned both public and private spaces. When displayed in the latter, a sculpture such as the present lot demonstrated the owner’s taste, education and veneration for high Greek culture.

For other similar Roman copies of Praxiteles’s satyr, see the Walters Art Gallery, MA, inv. no. 23.22, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, NY, acc. no. 08.258.43, and the British Museum, London, 1838,1231.1.
For more on Praxiteles and his Pouring Satyr, see A. Stewart, Greek Sculpture, Yale, 1990, p. 280, no. 498 and A. Pasquier and J.-L.

‘[The Street of the Tripods of at Athens] also contains some really remarkable works of art.
For there is a Satyr, of which Praxiteles is said to have been very proud...’

Pausanias, 1.20.1.

This portrait statue depicts a young, elite Roman woman. She has a calm, pleasant demeanour, idealised, youthful beauty, and the heavy pleating of her stola emphasises her modesty. Whether this statue stood in a domestic or funerary setting, it certainly served to honour the subject.

A ROMAN MARBLE HEAD OF APOLLO
ANTONINE PERIOD, CIRCA 100-150 A.D.

The youthful god with his head turned slightly to his right, wearing a laurel wreath in his thick, luxuriously wavy hair, curls escaping onto his forehead, his locks drawn up into a top-knot, and bound behind in a low chignon, with tendrils falling onto his neck, his oval face with large almond-shaped eyes with thick upper lids, deeply drilled at the inner canthi, the closed mouth slightly smiling, 32cm high.

Provenance
Private collection, Germany, since 1964.

The luscious curls of the present lot is typically early Antonine, with deeply-drilled, bountiful locks piled high upon the head. Sculpture during the Antonine periods is characterized by an increased emphasis in drill work focused on producing full, plastically-rendered curls, which were contrasted with the smoothly polished face of the subject.

For an Apollo with a similarly fleshy face, quiet countenance and high laurel wreath, see Ny Carlsberg Glyptothek, Copenhagen, inv. no. 1612. The present lot probably represents Apollo Kitharoidos, i.e. Apollo holding the kithara, a depiction which emphasises his role as god of music.

The wavy hair is typical of the fashions of the time, which sought to imitate the exaggerated undulating hairstyle of the Empress Faustina Minor (130-176 A.D.), daughter of Emperor Antoninus Pius and wife to Marcus Aurelius. For a similar portrait of a woman, or possibly the Empress herself, see C. Vermeule, Greek and Roman Sculpture in America, Los Angeles, 1981, p.332, pl. 285.

A ROMAN MARBLE MALE PORTRAIT BUST
REIGN OF CARACALLA, CIRCA 211-217 A.D.
Depicted life-sized, the head turned slightly to the right, the face framed with short curly hair and beard with a neat bushy moustache, the eyebrows engraved above upward-gazing articulated eyes,
36cm high

£50,000 - 80,000
€57,000 - 92,000
US$64,000 - 100,000

Provenance
Dr William Redel (1917-2012) collection, USA, acquired prior to 1967; and thence by descent to the present owner.

The strong countenance and short, curvy, clumpy hair is reminiscent of certain portrait types of Septimius Severus, and of the portraiture of his son and heir, Caracalla. This change in hairstyles from the Antonine period has been attributed to Septimius's and Caracalla's North African heritage, and the former's military background. The Roman elite would often fashion private, personal portraits after the prevailing style of the reigning dynasties, and the present lot displays a deliberate imitation of the hair, beard and moustache sported by the ruling family of the early 3rd century A.D. The rendering of the hair and beard, which lacks the schematic drill work typical of portraits from the time of Septimius Severus, points to an execution date during the reign of Caracalla. For a portrait of Caracalla with similar treatment of the hair and beard, see K. Fittschen and P. Zanker, Katalog der Römischen Porträts in den Capitolinischen Museen und der anderen kommunalen Sammlungen der Stadt Rom I: Kaiser- und Prinzenbildnissem, Mainz, 1985, pls. 110-114, app. 71-77.

However, unlike portraits of the notorious Caracalla, who murdered his younger brother Geta to secure sole supremacy, and whose likenesses are marked by their scowling expression and an accentuated, aggressive twist of the head, this portrait exudes a calm, confident demeanour. For two portraits which exhibit similar benign countenances, see K. Rhomiopoulou, ΕΛΛΗΝΟΡΩΜΑΪ́ΚΑ ΓΛΥΠΤΑ, ΤΟΥ ΕΘΝΙΚΟΥ ΑΡΧΑΙΟΛΟΓΙΚΟΥ ΜΟΥΣΕΙΟΥ [= Greco-Roman Sculpture of the National Archaeological Museum], Athens, 1997, p.109, cat.111 and p.111, cat.114. Both of these portraits were found in Greece, and the present lot is carved from a fine-grained, Greek marble, perhaps suggesting a similar Greek provenance. The present lot exemplifies the desire of the Roman elite to both align themselves with the ruling classes by close imitation of their public image, yet retain an individualistic character within their portraiture.
For details of the charges payable in addition to the final Hammer Price of each Lot please refer to paragraphs 7 & 8 of the Notice to Bidders at the back of the catalogue.

Such moulds are rare, and were created by impressing stamps of the desired design into a piece of relatively soft material. The appliques that were made from such moulds decorated North African terra sigillata ware, being applied before the pottery was dried and fired. The choice of fish likely reflects a demand for Christian motifs, which emerged with the rise of Christianity in the later Roman period.

The detail of the hanging shoes suggests that this sarcophagus panel depicted a shoemaker's workshop. Scenes of daily life were relatively rare on sarcophagi, which more usually depicted mythological scenes. For another sarcophagus panel showing a shoemaker, see a relief discovered at Ostia, dating to the 2nd Century A.D., showing a shoemaker and ropemaker at work (now at Museo Nazionale Romano, Palazzo Massimo alle Terme).

This unusual mosaic probably once formed part of a larger hunting scene. Animal hunts were popular design choices for Roman mosaics, and showed dogs or large cats, such as leopards and lions, or even humans, pursuing bulls, stags and other prey. The house may be intended to signify the scale of the beast or to add a sense of dynamism.

The significance of the vessels depicted on this type of bottle has long been discussed. Eisen suggested their similarity with the vessels used in temples of the period, and therefore classified the bottles as the ‘Temple Series’ (G. A. Eisen, Glass: Its Origin, History, Chronology, Technic and Classification to the Sixteenth Century, New York, 1927).

An origin in or near Sidon, on the coast of the Eastern Mediterranean, has been suggested for these bird bottles. As suggested by Stern, the subject may have been chosen in order to evoke the name Ornithopolis, the Bird City, the coastal town said to have belonged to Sidon (E. M. Stern, The Toledo Museum of Art, Roman Mold-blown Glass, the First to through Sixth Centuries, Toledo, 1995, p.143-144). Opaque white seems to be the most popular colour for this type of vessel - for another, see J. Paul Getty Museum, acc. no. 2003.300.

The modiolus is a broad cup also known in metal and pottery. The name derives from that of a measuring cup, which it resembles in shape. They were, however, made in various sizes and cannot be interpreted as having a standardised capacity (see D. Whitehouse, Roman Glass in The Corning Museum of Glass, vol. 3, Corning, 2003, p.139, no.1126). |

W. Haberey suggests that vessels such as the present lot were formed by first being placed in a shallow one-piece mould, before being further inflated once removed from the mould (Zur Herstellung der römischen Wabenbecher, Bonner Jahrbücher CLVI, 1966, pp. 208-12).

This process often distorted the pattern towards the bottom of the vessel, as here, where the honeycomb pattern becomes less tight. For a similar honeycomb beaker, see S. Matheson, Ancient Glass in the Yale University Art Gallery, New Haven, 1980, p.109, no.284. There are three main varieties of this type of mould-blown bowl, discussed by J. W. Hayes, Roman and Pre-Roman Glass in the Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto, 1975, p.147, no. 643. This blue example belongs to the third variety.

Find-spots range from northern France and the Rhineland across South Russia, Syria and even Korea: a rim fragment in blue glass from the catacomb of San Sebastian is preserved in the Vatican Collection (F. Fremersdorf, Antikes, Islamisches- und Mittelalterliches Glas, Catalogo del Museo Sacro V, Vatican 1975, p.70, no.679, pl.30), and a complete blue bowl appears in the Winfield Smith Collection (T. S. Buechner, Glass from the Ancient World: The Ray Winfield Smith Collection, Corning, 1957, p.211, no.240). Another smaller blue version was found in the Tomb of Heavenly Horse in Kyongiu in Korea, provisionally dated to the early 6th century A.D.

AMLASH ART AND SAM DUBINER

Amlash, in the Gilan province of Northwest Iran, was the name attributed to this pottery because the first pieces were brought to the city by an Amlash villager. It was with the excavations at Marlik by Japanese archaeologists and then the Archaeological Service of Iran and the Tehran Museum that Sam became involved, working closely with Professor Ali Hakemi of the Tehran Museum from the mid 1960s. In the years that followed he sponsored many of the archaeological excavations in that region and acquired some of his extensive collection of Amlash pottery through the system of partage, as well as through buying from dealers in Iran, the USA and Europe.

Sam Dubiner (1914-1993), born and raised in Toronto, Canada, was a prodigiously successful businessman, founding many companies across the globe starting at the precociously early age of 10 with a novel idea for the selling of newspapers, which led to him employing 25 newspapers boys when he was only 12 years old. In 1950, Sam and his wife Betty took the decision to temporarily immigrate to Israel for Sam to help build up new industries in the newly established Jewish state. After Sam had achieved business success he became a leading patron of the arts in Israel, opening the first commercial art gallery in Tel Aviv, known as Galerie Israel, and acting as patron to artists as well as introducing Israeli modern artists to the United States and Europe. His passion in the arts extended beyond contemporary art, and he held a keen interest in the art of primitive societies, organising exhibitions of his collection of tribal art in five major Japanese cities in 1961. Prior to this, while on a visit to Tehran in 1959, he bought his first Persian antiquity, which led to his love affair with Amlash pottery and the acquisition of thousands of Persian pottery sculptures which continued until 1968.

From the 23 September – 19 October 1963, Galerie Israel staged its first Amlash show in the USA, exhibiting at the Betty Parsons Art Gallery in New York, which was well received. A subsequent show, The Art of Amlash, was held from 22 February – 3 March 1966 at the National Antiques Show, Madison Square Garden. Many short films were made by Dubiner in the 1970s after he travelled the globe producing films about ancient peoples featuring the origins of international artists who migrated to Persia and whose cross-fertilisation of ideas influenced Amlash pottery. Many of these films featured Amlash sculptures from his collection, a number of which form part of this initial offering of Sam Dubiner’s collection.

Please see page 3 for import restrictions on lots of Iranian origin.

AN AMLASH POTTERY BULL RHYTON
CIRCA EARLY 1ST MILLENNIUM B.C.
With a prominent neck hump, the muzzle extending into a long open spout, with crescent horns, and four stumpy legs, his genitalia modelled beneath, 37cm high; 42cm long

£8,000 - 12,000
€9,200 - 14,000
US$10,000 - 15,000

Provenance
Sam Dubiner (1914-1993) collection, Israel, and thence by descent to the present owner.

It has been suggested that vessels such as this bull rhyton may have been used in a secular context for the drinking of wine. For a discussion on whether ceramic rhytons were used for the domestic consumption of wine and other fluids or as libation vessels at religious ceremonies see A. C. Gunter, 'The Art of Eating and Drinking in ancient Iran' in Asian Art, Arthur M. Sackler Gallery, Smithsonian Institution, vol. 1, no. 2, Spring 1988, pp.11-14. The rhyton first appeared in Iran in the 4th Millennium B.C. and continued to be used throughout the Pre-Islamic period. An 11th Century A.D. Persian dictionary gives the definition of the rhyton as 'a bull or cow formed of pottery, gold or other materials used for the drinking of wine'. However Hittite texts found in Turkey (circa 1450-1200 B.C.) refer to the use of animal-shaped rhytons for making ritual libations of wine or beer to certain deities. It is quite possible that rhytons were used for both purposes and that deities were being made offerings of drink in imitation of everyday domestic meals (ibid.).
203 *
AN AMLASH BLACK BURNISHED POTTERY MUSICAL INSTRUMENT CIRCA 1ST MILLENNIUM B.C.
Of elongated form tapering towards the top, a looped handle on one side of the vessel, the surface with a series of evenly placed piercings on either side of the handle, the body decorated with a series of scratched parallel lines, 24.8cm high

£2,000 - 4,000
€2,300 - 4,600
US$2,600 - 5,100

Provenance
Sam Dubiner (1914-1993) collection, Israel, and thence by descent to the present owner.

For another Amlash pottery musical instrument see Banque Bruxelles Lambert and G. Ae, In de schaduw van Babel: A l’ombre de Babel, Brussels, 1995, p.90, no.134, which was sold in these rooms 29 April 2009, lot 183. This example retained the small clay balls within the hollow body, indicating that the instrument was designed to be shaken or rattled. The Museo Nazionale d’Arte Orientale in Rome holds another example, inv. 16867/23993. It is likely that these instruments could be played by dragging a stick or similar across the grooves on the exterior. The animal head, again found on the present lot and the cited example, may have held a ritualistic significance.

AN IRANIAN BUFF POTTERY INCENSE BURNER CIRCA LATE 2ND-1ST MILLENNIUM B.C.
Hollow, each of the rectangular sides with five vertical apertures, the lower third modelled in a cylindrical form with four ibex heads set in relief at each corner, another four horned animal heads set in relief at each corner of the top of the tower, surmounted by an openwork cuboid, 52cm high

£8,000 - 12,000
€9,200 - 14,000
US$10,000 - 15,000

Provenance
Sam Dubiner (1914-1993) collection, Israel, and thence by descent to the present owner.

This lot was featured in the feature film The Amlash Enchanted Forest, written by Sam Dubiner and directed by Shlomo Soriano. This film was selected for the Berlin Film Festival in 1974.

An example of a hollow pottery tower with rectangular openings and ibex head protomes at the corners is in the Museo Nazionale d’Arte Orientale in Rome, inv. 5130/4852, and is suggested to be an incense burner or vase-stand. While the present lot is rectangular-shaped, the example in Rome is a triangular tower.

For ease of reference we refer to such persons as “Buyers” or “you”. Our List of Definitions and Glossary is incorporated into this Notice to Bidders. It is at Appendix 3 at the back of the Catalogue. Where words and phrases are used in this notice which are in the List of Definitions, they are printed in italics.

1. OUR ROLE

In its role as Auctioneer of Lots, Bonhams acts solely for and in the interests of the Seller. Bonhams’ job is to sell the Lot at the highest price obtainable at the Sale to a Bidder. Bonhams does not act as Buyer or Bidders in this role and does not give advice to Buyers or Bidders. When it or its staff make statements about a Lot or if Bonhams provides a Condition Report on a Lot it is doing on behalf of the Seller of the Lot. Bidders and Buyers who are themselves not expert in the Lot are strongly advised to seek and obtain independent advice as to their value before bidding for them. The Seller has authorised Bonhams to sell the Lot as its agent on its behalf and, save where we expressly make it clear to the contrary, Bonhams acts only as agent for the Seller. Any statement or representation we make in respect of a Lot is made on behalf of and is not expert in the Lot. Remember that withdrawals and late entries may affect the time at which a Lot you are interested in is put up for Sale. We have complete discretion to refuse any bid, to nominate any bidding increment we consider appropriate, to divide any Lot, to combine two or more Lots, to withdraw any Lot from a Sale and, before the Sale has been closed, to put up any Lot for auction again. Auction speeds can exceed 100 Lots to the hour and bidding increments are generally about 10%. However these do vary from Sale to Sale and from Auctioneer to Auctioneer. Please check with our current organising the Sales team for details.

2.LOTS

Subject to the Contractual Description printed in bold letters in the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue (see paragraph 3 below), Lots are sold to the Buyer on an “as is” basis, with all faults and imperfections. Illustrations and photographs contained in the Catalogue (other than photographs forming part of the Contractual Description) or elsewhere of any Lots are for identification purposes only. They may not reveal the true condition of the Lot. A photograph or illustration may not reflect an accurate reproduction of the colour(s) of the Lot. Lots are available for inspection prior to the Sale and it is for you to satisfy yourself as to each and every aspect of a Lot, including its authorship, attribution, condition, provenance, history, background, authenticity, style, period, age, suitability, quality, roadworthiness (if relevant), origin, value and estimated selling price (including the Hammer Price). It is your responsibility to examine any Lot in which you are interested. It should be remembered that the actual condition of a Lot may not be as good as that indicated by its outward appearance. In particular, parts may have been replaced or renewed and Lots may not be authentic or of satisfactory quality; the inside of a Lot may not be visible and may not be damaged, as for example where it is covered by upholstery or material. Given the age of many Lots they may have been damaged and/or repaired and you should not assume that a Lot is in good condition. Electronic or mechanical parts may not operate or may not comply with current statutory requirements. You should not assume that electrical items designed to operate on mains electricity will be suitable for connection to the mains electricity supply and you should obtain a report from a qualified electrician on their status before doing so. Such items which are unsuitable for connection are clearly indicated in the Sale Catalogue. You should consult someone who does advise you. We can assist in arranging facilities for you to carry out or have carried out more detailed inspections and tests. Please ask our staff for details.

Any person who damages a Lot will be held liable for the loss caused.

3. DESCRIPTIONS OF LOTS AND ESTIMATES

Contractual Description of a Lot

The Catalogue contains an Entry about each Lot. Each Lot is sold by its respective Seller to the Buyer of the Lot as corresponding only with that part of the Entry which is printed in bold letters and except for the colour, which may be inaccurately reproduced with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue. The remainder of the Entry, which is not printed in bold letters, represents Bonhams’ opinion (given on behalf of the Seller) about the Lot only and is not part of the Contractual Description in accordance with which the Lot is sold by the Seller.

Estimates

In most cases, an Estimate is printed beside the Entry. Estimates are only an expression of Bonhams’ opinion made on behalf of the Seller of the range within Bonhams thinks the Hammer Price for the Lot is likely to fall; it is not an Estimate of value. It does not take into account any VAT or Buyer’s Premium payable or any other fees payable by the Buyer, which are detailed in paragraph 7 of the Notice to Bidders, below. Lots can in fact sell for Hammer Prices below and above the Estimate. Any Estimate should not be relied on as an indication of the actual selling price or value of a Lot. Estimates are in the opinion of the Seller.

Condition Reports

In respect of most Lots, you may ask for a Condition Report on its physical condition from Bonhams. If you do so, this will be provided by Bonhams on behalf of the Seller free of charge. Bonhams is not entering into a contract with you in respect of the Condition Report and accordingly does not assume responsibility to you in respect of it. Nor does the Seller owe or agree to owe you as a Bidder any obligation or duty in respect of this free report about a Lot, which is available for your own inspection or for inspection by an expert instructed by you. However, any written Description of the physical condition of the Lot contained in a Condition Report will form part of the Contractual Description of the Lot under which it is sold to any Buyer.

The Seller’s responsibility to you

The Seller does not make or agree to make any representation of fact or contractual promise, Guarantee or warranty and undertakes no obligation or duty, whether in contract or in tort (other than to the eventual Buyer as set out above), in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by him or on his behalf, which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. Other than as set out above, no statement or representation in any way descriptive of a Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into any Contract for Sale between a Seller and a Buyer.

Bonhams’ responsibility to you

You have the opportunity of examining the Lot if you want to and should undertake to do so at your own cost (subject to the Seller’s costs, whether in contract or tort in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by Bonhams or on Bonhams’ behalf which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. No statement or representation by Bonhams or on its behalf in any way descriptive of any Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into our Buyer’s Agreement.

Alterations

Descriptions and Estimates may be amended at Bonhams’ discretion from time to time by notice given orally or in writing before or during a Sale.

The Lot is available for inspection and you must form your own opinion in relation to it. You are strongly advised to examine any Lot or have it examined on your behalf before the Sale.

4. CONDUCT OF THE SALE

Our Sales are public auctions which persons may attend and you should take the opportunity to do so. We do reserve the right at our sole discretion to refuse admission to our premises or to any Sale without stating a reason. We have complete discretion as to whether the Sale proceeds, whether any Lot is included in the Sale, the manner in which the Sale is conducted and we may offer Lots for sale in order we choose notwithstanding the numbers given to Lots in the Catalogue. You should therefore check the date and starting time of the Sale, whether there have been any withdrawals and late entries. Remember that withdrawals and late entries may affect the time at which a Lot you are interested in is put up for Sale. We have complete discretion to refuse any bid, to nominate any bidding increment we consider appropriate, to divide any Lot, to combine two or more Lots, to withdraw any Lot from a Sale and, before the Sale has been closed, to put up any Lot for auction again. Auction speeds can exceed 100 Lots to the hour and bidding increments are generally about 10%. However these do vary from Sale to Sale and from Auctioneer to Auctioneer. Please check with our current organising the Sales team for details.

Where a Reserve has been applied to a Lot, the Auctioneer may, in his absolute discretion, place bids (up to an amount not equaling or exceeding such Reserve) on behalf of the Seller. We are not responsible to you in respect of the presence or absence of any Reserve in respect of any Lot. If there is a Reserve it will normally be no higher than the lower figure for any Estimate in the Catalogue, assuming that the currency of the Reserve has not fluctuated adversely against the currency of the Estimate. The Buyer will be the Bidder who makes the highest bid acceptable to the Auctioneer for any Lot (subject to any applicable Reserve) to whom the Lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer at the fall of the Auctioneer’s hammer. Any dispute as to the highest acceptable bid will be settled by the Auctioneer in his absolute discretion. All bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. An electronic currency converter may be used at the Sale. This equipment is provided as a general guide as to the equivalent amount in certain currencies of a given bid. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the currency converter. We may use video cameras to record the Sale and may record telephone calls for reasons of security and to assist in solving any disputes which may arise in relation to bids made at the Sale. At some Sales, for example, jewellery Sales, we may use screens on which images of the Lots will be projected. This service is provided to assist viewing at the Sale. The image on the screen should be treated as an indication only of the current Lot. It should be noted that all bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the screen.

5. BIDDING

We do not accept bids from any person who has not been completed and delivered to us of one of our Bidding Forms, either our Bidders Registration Form, Absentee Bidding Form or Telephone Bidding Form. You will be asked for proof of identity, residence and references, which, when supplied, you must supply if your bids are to be accepted by us. Please bring your passport, driving licence (or similar photographic proof of identity) and proof of address. We may request a deposit from you before allowing you to bid. We may refuse entry to a Sale.
to any person even if that person has completed a Bidding Form.

Bidding in person
You should come to our Bidding registration desk at the Sale venue and fill out a Bidders Registration Form on (or, if possible, before) the day of the Sale. The bidding number system is sometimes referred to as “paddle bidding”. You will be issued with a large card (a “paddle”) with a printed number on it. This will be attributed to you for the purposes of the Sale. Should you be a successful Bidder you will need to ensure that your number can be clearly seen by the Auctioneer and that it is your number which is identified as the Buyer. You should not let anyone else use your paddle as all Lots will be invoiced to the name and address given on your Bidders Registration Form. Once an invoice is issued it will not be changed. If there is any doubt as to the Hammer Price of, or whether you are the successful Bidder of, a particular Lot, you must draw this to the attention of the Auctioneer before the next Lot is offered for Sale. At the end of the Sale, or when you have finished bidding please return your paddle to the Bidders registration desk.

Bidding by telephone
If you wish to bid at the Sale by telephone, please complete a Telephone Bidding Form, which is available from our offices or in the Catalogue. Please then return it to the office responsible for the Sale at least 24 hours in advance of the Sale. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. Telephone calls will be recorded. The telephone bidding facility is a discretionary service and may not be available in relation to all Lots. We will not be responsible for bidding on your behalf if you are unavailable at the time of the Sale or if the telephone connection is interrupted during bidding. Please contact us for further details.

Bidding by post or fax
Absentee Bidding Forms can be found in the back of this Catalogue and should be completed and sent to the office responsible for the Sale. It is in your interests to return your Form as soon as possible, as we will then be able to contact you to advise, if you are higher than two or more Bidders submit identical bids for a Lot, the first bid received takes precedence. In any event, all bids should be received at least 24 hours before the start of the Sale. Please check your Absentee Bidding Form carefully before returning it to us, fully completed and signed by you. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. This additional service is complimentary and is confidential. Such bids are made at your own risk and we cannot accept liability for our failure to receive and/or place any such bids. All bids made on your behalf will be made at the lowest possible subject to Reserves and other bids made for the Lot. Where appropriate your bids will be rounded down to the nearest amount consistent with the Auctioneer’s bidding increments. New Bidders must also provide proof of identity and address when submitting bids. Failure to do this will result in your bid not being placed.

Bidding via the internet
Please visit our Website at http://www.bonhams.com for details of how to bid via the internet.

Bidding through an agent
Bids will be accepted as placed on behalf of the person named as the principal on the Bidding Form although we may refuse to accept bids from an agent on behalf of a principal and will require written confirmation from the principal confirming the agent’s authority to bid. Nevertheless, as the Bidding Form explains, any person placing a bid as agent on behalf of another (whether or not he has disclosed that fact or the identity of his principal) will be jointly and severally liable with the principal to the Seller and to Bonhams under any contract resulting from the acceptance of a bid. Subject to the above, please let us know if you are acting on behalf of another person when bidding for Lots at the Sale.

Equally, please let us know if you intend to nominate another person to bid on your behalf at the Sale unless this is to be carried out by us pursuant to a Telephone or Absentee Bidding Form that you have completed. If we do not approve the agency arrangements in writing before the Sale, we are entitled to assume that the person bidding at the Sale is bidding on his own behalf. Accordingly, the person bidding at the Sale will be the Buyer and will be liable to pay the Hammer Price and Buyer’s Premium and associated charges. If we approve the identity of your client in advance, we will be in a position to address the invoice to your principal rather than you. We will require proof of the agent’s client’s identity and residence in advance of any bids made by the agent on his behalf. Please refer to our Conditions of Business and contact our Customer Services Department for further details.

On the Lot being knocked down to the Buyer, a Contract for Sale of the Lot will be entered into between the Seller and the Buyer on the terms of the Contract for Sale set out in Appendix 1 at the back of the Catalogue. You will be liable to pay the Purchase Price, which is the Hammer Price plus any applicable VAT. At the same time, a separate contract is also entered into between us as Auctioneers and the Buyer. This is our Buyer’s Agreement, the terms of which are set out in Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue. Please read the terms of the Contract for Sale and our Buyer’s Agreement contained in the Catalogue in case you are the successful Bidder. We may change the terms of either or both of these agreements in advance of their being entered into, by setting out different terms in the Catalogue and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask if there have been any.

7. BUYER’S PREMIUM AND OTHER CHARGES PAYABLE BY THE BUYER

Under the Buyer’s Agreement, a premium (the Buyer’s Premium) is payable to us by the Buyer in accordance with the terms of the Buyer’s Agreement and at rates set out below, calculated by reference to the Hammer Price and payable in addition to it. For this Sale the following rates of Buyer’s Premium will be payable by Buyers of Lots:

- 25% up to £100,000 of the Hammer Price
- 20% from £100,001 to £200,000 of the Hammer Price

The Buyer’s Premium and all other charges payable to us by the Buyer are subject to VAT at the prevailing rate, currently 20%. VAT may also be payable on the Hammer Price of the Lot, where indicated by a symbol beside the Lot number. See paragraph 8 below for details.

On certain Lots, which will be marked “AR” in the Catalogue and which are sold for a Hammer Price of £1,000 or greater (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale), the Additional Premium will be payable by us to the Buyer to cover our Expenses relating to the payment of royalties under the Artists Resale Right Regulations 2006. The Additional Premium will be a percentage of the amount of the Hammer Price calculated in accordance with the table below, and shall not exceed €12,500 (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale).

If a Buyer, having registered under a non-EU address, decides that the item is not to be exported from the EU, then he should advise Bonhams immediately.

In all other instances no VAT will be charged on the Hammer Price, but VAT at the prevailing rate will be added to Buyer’s Premium which will be invoiced on a VAT inclusive basis.

The need for import licences varies from country to country and you should acquaint yourself with all relevant local requirements and provisions. The refusal of any import or export licence(s) or any delay in obtaining such licence(s) shall not permit the rescission of any Sale nor allow any delay in making full payment for the Lot. Generally, please contact our shipping department before the Sale if you require assistance in relation to export regulations.

13. CITES REGULATIONS

Please be aware that all Lots marked with the symbol Y are subject to CITES regulations when exporting these items outside the EU. These regulations may be found at http://www.defra.gov.uk/ahva-en/imports-exports/cites/ or may be requested from:

14. THE SELLERS AND/OR BONHAMS’ LIABILITY

Other than any liability of the Seller to the Buyer of a Lot under the Contract for Sale, neither we nor the Seller are liable (whether in negligence or otherwise) for any error or misdescription or omission in any Description of a Lot or any Estimate in respect of it, whether contained in the Catalogue or otherwise, whether given orally or in writing and whether given before or during the Sale. Neither we nor the Seller will be liable for any loss of Business, profits, revenue or income, or for loss of reputation, or for disruption to Business or wasted time on the part of management or staff, or for indirect losses or consequential damages of any kind, irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of the loss or damage alleged to be suffered, and irrespective of whether the said loss or damage is caused by or claimed in respect of any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty, restitutionary claim or otherwise. In any circumstances where we and/or the Seller are liable in relation to any Lot or any Description or Estimate made of any Lot, or the conduct of any Sale in relation to any Lot, whether in damages, for an indemnity or contribution, or for a restitutary remedy or otherwise, our and/or the Seller’s liability (combined, if both we and the Seller are liable) will be limited to payment of a sum which will not exceed by way of maximum the amount of the Purchase Price of the Lot irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of any loss or damage alleged to be suffered or sum claimed as due, and irrespective of whether the liability arises from any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty or otherwise. Nothing set out above will be construed as excluding or restricting (whether directly or indirectly) our liability or excluding or restricting any person’s rights or remedies in respect of (i) fraud, or (ii) death or personal injury caused by our negligence (or by the negligence of any person under our control) or for whom we are legally responsible, or (iii) acts or omissions for which we are liable under the Occupiers Liability Act 1957, or (iv) any other liability to the extent the same may not be excluded or restricted as a matter of law or (v) our undertakings under paragraphs 9 in relation to specialist Stamps or Book Sales only) and 10 of the Buyer’s Agreement. Please note that Lots comprising printed Books, unframed maps and bound manuscripts are not liable to VAT on the Buyer’s Premium.

15. BOOKS

As stated above, all Lots are sold on an “as is” basis, subject to all faults, imperfections and errors of Description save as set out below. However, you will be entitled to reject a Book in the circumstances set out in paragraph 11 of the Buyers Agreement. Please note that Lots comprising printed Books, unframed maps and bound manuscripts are not liable to VAT on the Buyer’s Premium.

16. CLOCKS AND WATCHES

All Lots are sold “as is”, and the absence of any reference to the condition of a clock or watch does not imply that the Lot is in good condition and without defects, repairs or restorations. Most clocks and watches have been repaired in the course of their normal lifetime and may now incorporate parts not original to them. Furthermore, Bonhams makes no representation or warranty that any clock or watch is in working order. As clocks and watches often contain fine and complex mechanisms, Bidders should be aware that a general service, change of battery or further repair work, for which the Buyer is solely responsible, may be necessary. Bidders should be aware that the importation of watches such as Rolex, Patek Philippe and Corum into the United States is highly restricted. These watches may not be shipped to the USA and can only be imported personally.

17. FIREARMS – PROOF, CONDITION AND CERTIFICATION

Proof of Firearms

The term “proof exemption” indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House, but not proved, as either (a) it was deemed of interest and not intended for use, or (b) ammunition was not available. In either case, the firearm must be regarded as unsafe to fire unless subsequently proved. Firearms proved for Black Powder should not be used with smokeless ammunition.

The term “Certificate of Unprovability” indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House and is deemed both unsuitable for proof and use. Reproof is required before any such firearm is to be used.

Guns Sold as Parts

Barrels of guns sold as parts will only be made available for cleaning and measurements once rendered unserviceable according to the Gun Barrel Proof Act of 1966 to 1976 and the Rules of Proof.

Condition of Firearms

Comment in this Catalogue is restricted, in general, to exceptional condition and to those defects that might affect the immediate safety of a firearm in normal use. An intending Bidder unable to make technical examinations and assessments is recommended to seek advice from a gunmaker or from a modern firearms specialist. At prospective Bidders are advised to consult the “ of bore and wall-thickness measurements posted in the saleroom and available from the department. Bidders should note that guns are stripped only where there is a strong indication of a mechanical malfunction. Stripping is not, otherwise, undertaken. Guns intended for use should be stripped and cleaned beforehand. Hammer guns should have their rebound mechanisms checked before use. The safety mechanisms of all guns must be tested before use. All measurements are approximate.

Original Gun Specifications Derived from Gunmakers

The Sporting Gun Department endeavours to confirm a gun’s original specification and date of manufacture with makers who hold their original records.

Licensing Requirements

Firearms Act 1968 as amended

Bonhams is constantly reviewing its procedures and would remind you that, in the case of firearms or shotguns subject to certification, to conform with current legislation, Bonhams is now required to hold the original registered firearms dealer’s certificate / shot gun certificate / firearm certificate / museum firearms licence / Section 5 authority or import licence (or details of any exemption from which you may benefit, for instance Crown servant status) for the firearm(s) you have purchased prior to taking full payment of the amount shown on your invoice. Should you not already be in possession of such an authority or exemption, you are required to initially pay a deposit of 50/60% of the total invoice with the balance of 5% payable on presentation of your valid certificate or licence showing your authority to hold the firearm(s) concerned.

Please be advised that if a successful Bidder is then unable to produce the correct paperwork, the Lot(s) will be reoffered by Bonhams in the next appropriate Sale, on standard terms for Seller, and you will be responsible for any loss incurred by Bonhams on the original Sale to you.

In the case of RPD certificates and Section 5 authorities, we wish to keep an up-to-date copy on file. Please supply us with a Fax or photocopy. It would be helpful if you could send us an updated copy whenever your certificate or authority is renewed or changed.

Lots marked “S1” and bearing red labels are Section 1 firearms and require a valid British Firearms certificate, RPD Licence or import licence.

Lots marked “S2” and bearing blue labels are Section 2 firearms and require a valid British Shotgun certificate, RPD licence or import licence.

Lots marked “S3” and bearing specially marked red labels are Section 5 prohibited firearms and require a valid Section 5 Authority or import licence.

Lots marked with a “S5B” and bearing yellow labels are for obsolete calibres and no licence is required unless ammunition is held.

Unmarked Lots require no licence.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Modern Sporting Gun department should you have any queries.

Taxidermy and Related Items

As a Seller of these articles, Bonhams undertakes to comply fully with CITES and DEFRA regulations. Bidders are advised to inform themselves of all such regulations and should expect the exportation of items to take some time to arrange.

18. FURNITURE

Upholstered Furniture

Whilst we take every care in cataloguing furniture which has been upholstered we offer no Guarantee as to the originality of the wood covered by fabric or upholstery.
19. JEWELLERY

Gemstones

Historically many gemstones have been subjected to a variety of treatments to enhance their appearance. Sapphires and rubies are routinely heat treated to improve their colour and clarity, similarly emeralds are frequently treated with oils or resin for the same purpose. Other treatments such as staining, irradiation or coating may have been used on other gemstones. These treatments may be permanent, whilst others may need special care or re-treatment over the years to retain their appearance. Bidders should be aware that Estimates assume that gemstones may have been subjected to such treatments. A number of laboratories issue certificates that give more detailed Descriptions of gemstones. However there may not be consensus between different laboratories on the degrees, or types of treatment for any particular gemstone.

In the event that Bonhams has been given or has obtained certificates for any Lot in the Sale these certificates will be disclosed in the Catalogue. Although, as a matter of policy, Bonhams endeavours to provide certificates from recognised laboratories for certain gemstones, it is not feasible to obtain certificates for each Lot. In the event that no certificate is published in the Catalogue, Bidders should assume that the gemstones may have been treated. Neither Bonhams nor the Seller accepts any liability for contradictions or differing certificates obtained by Buyers on any Lots subsequent to the Sale.

Estimated Weights

If a stone(s) weight appears within the body of the Description in capital letters, the stone(s) has been unmounted and weighed by Bonhams. If the weight of the stone(s) is stated to be approximate and does not appear in capital letters, the stone(s) has been assessed by us within its/them settings, and the stated weight is a statement of our opinion only. This information is given as a guide and Bidders should satisfy themselves with regard to this information as to its accuracy.

Signatures

1. A diamond brooch, by Kutchinsky

When the maker’s name appears in the title, in Bonhams’ opinion the piece is by that maker.

2. A diamond brooch, signed Kutchinsky

Has a signature that, in Bonhams’ opinion, is authentic but may contain gemstones that are not original, or the piece may have been altered.

3. A diamond brooch, mounted by Kutchinsky

Has been created by the jeweler, in Bonhams’ opinion, but using stones or designs supplied by the client.

20. PHOTOGRAPHS

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

• “Bill Brandt”: in our opinion a work by the artist.
• “Attributed to Bill Brandt”: in our opinion probably a work by the artist, but less certainty to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category.
• “Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed”: in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription are in the artist’s hand.
• “Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed in another hand”: in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.
• The date given is that of the image (negative). Where no further date is given, this indicates that the photographic print is vintage (the term “vintage” may also be included in the Lot Description). A vintage photograph is one which was made within approximately 5-10 years of the negative. Where a second, later date appears, this refers to the date of printing. Where the exact printing date is not known, but understood to be later, “printed later” will appear in the Lot Description.
• Unless otherwise specified, dimensions given are those of the piece of paper on which the image is printed, including any margins. Some photographs may appear in the Catalogue without margins illustrated.
• All photographs are sold unframed unless stated in the Lot Description.

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

The following terms used in the Catalogue have the following meanings but are subject to the general provisions relating to Descriptions contained in the Contract for Sale:

• “Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion a work by the artist. When the artist’s forename(s) is not known, a series of asterisks, followed by the surname of the artist, whether preceded by an initial or not, indicates that in our opinion the work is by the artist named;
• “Attributed to Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion probably a work by the artist but less certainty as to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category;
• “Studio/Workshop of Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion a work by an unknown hand in a studio of the artist which may or may not have been executed under the artist’s direction;
• “Circle of Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion a work by a hand closely associated with a named artist but not necessarily his pupil;
• “Follower of Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion a work by a painter working in the artist’s style, contemporary or nearly contemporary, but not necessarily his pupil;
• “Manner of Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion a work in the style of the artist and of a later date;
• “After Jacopo Bassano”: in our opinion, a copy of a known work of the artist;
• “Signed and/or dated and/or inscribed”: in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription are from the hand of the artist;
• “Bears a signature and/or date and/or inscription”: in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.

22. PORCELAIN AND GLASS

Damage and Restoration

For your guidance, in our Catalogues we detail, as far as practicable, recorded all significant defects, cracks and restoration. Such practicable Descriptions of damage cannot be definitive, and in providing Condition Reports, we cannot Guarantee that there are no other defects present which have not been mentioned. Bidders should satisfy themselves by inspection, as to the condition of each Lot. Please see the Contract for Sale printed in this Catalogue. Because of the difficulty in determining whether an item of glass has been repolished, in our Catalogues reference is only made to visible chips and cracks. No mention is made of repolishing, severe or otherwise.

23. VEHICLES

The Veteran Car Club of Great Britain

Dating Plates and Certificates

When mention is made of a Veteran Car Club Dating Plate or Dating Certificate in this Catalogue, it should be borne in mind that the Veteran Car Club of Great Britain using the services of Veteran Car Company Ltd, does from time to time, review cars already dated and, in some instances, where fresh evidence becomes available, the review can result in an alteration of date. Whilst the Club and Veteran Car Company Ltd make every effort to ensure accuracy, the date shown on the Dating Plate or Dating Certificate cannot be guaranteed as correct and intending purchasers should make their own enquiries as to the date of the car.

24. WINE

Lots which are lying under Bond and those liable to VAT may not be available for immediate collection.

Examining the wines

It is occasionally possible to provide a pre-Sale tasting for larger parcels (as defined below). This is generally limited to more recent and everyday drinking wines. Please contact the department for details.

Oft is not our policy to inspect every unopened case. In the case of wines older than 20 years the boxes will usually have been opened and levels and appearance noted in the Catalogue where necessary. You should make proper allowance for variations in olive levels and conditions of corks, capsules and labels.

Corks and Ullages

Ullage refers to the space between the base of the cork and the wine. Ullage levels for Bordeaux shaped bottles are only normally noted when below the neck and for Burgundy, Alsace, German and Cognac shaped bottles when greater than 4 centimetres (cm). Acceptable ullage levels increase with age; generally acceptable levels are as follows:

- Under 15 years old – into neck or less than 4cm
- 15 to 30 years old – top shoulder (js) or up to 5cm
- Over 30 years old – high shoulder (hs) or up to 6cm

It should be noted that ullages may change between publication of the Catalogue and the Sale and that corks may fail as a result of transporting the wine. We will only accept responsibility for Descriptions of condition at the time of publication of the Catalogue and cannot accept responsibility for any loss resulting from failure of corks either before or after this point.

Options to buy parcels

A parcel is a number of Lots of identical size of the same wine, bottle size and Description. The Buyer of any of these Lots has the option to accept some or all of the remaining Lots in the parcel at the same price, although such options will be at the Auctioneer’s sole discretion. Absentee Bidders are, therefore, advised to bid on the first Lot in a parcel.

Wines in Bond

Wines lying in Bond are marked △. All Lots sold under Bond, and which the Buyer wishes to remain under Bond, will be invoiced without VAT or Duty on the Hammer Price. If the Buyer wishes to take the Lotus as Duty paid, UK Excise Duty and VAT will be added to the Hammer Price on the invoice.

Buyers must notify Bonhams at the time of the sale whether they wish to take their wines under Bond or Duty paid. If a Lot is taken under Bond, the Buyer will be responsible for all VAT, Duty, clearance and other charges that may be payable thereon.

Buyers outside the UK must be aware that any forwarding agent appointed to export their purchases must have a movement certificate for Lots to be released under Bond.

APPENDIX 1

CONTRACT FOR SALE

IMPORTANT: These terms may be changed in advance of the Sale of the Lot to you, by the setting out of different terms in the Catalogue for the Sale and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale at the Sale venue. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

Under this contract the Seller’s liability in respect of the quality of the Lot, it’s fitness for any purpose and its conformity with any Description is limited. You are strongly advised to examine the Lot for yourself and/or obtain an independent examination of it before you buy it.

1 THE CONTRACT

1.1 These terms govern the Contract for Sale of the Lot by the Seller to the Buyer.

1.2 The Definitions and Glossary contained in Appendix 3 in the Catalogue are incorporated into this Contract for Sale and a separate copy can also be provided by Bonhams on request. Where words and phrases are used which are in the List of Definitions, they are printed in italics.

1.3 The Seller sells the Lot as the principal to the Contract for Sale, such contract being made between the Seller and you through Bonhams which acts in the sole capacity as the Seller’s agent and not as an additional principal. However, if the Catalogue states that Bonhams sells the Lot as principal, or such a statement is made by an announcement by the Auctioneer, or by a notice at the Sale, or an insert in the Catalogue, then Bonhams is the Seller for the purposes of this agreement.

1.4 The contract is made on the fall of the Auctioneers hammer in respect of the Lot when it is knocked down to you.

SELLER’S UNDERTAKINGS

2.1 The Seller undertakes to you that:

2.1.1 the Seller is the owner of the Lot or is duly authorised to sell the Lot by the owner;

2.1.2 save as disclosed in the Entry for the Lot in the Catalogue, the Seller sells the Lot with full title guarantee or, where the Seller is an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator, with whatever right, title or interest he may have in the Lot;

2.1.3 except where the Sale is by an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator the Seller is both legally entitled to sell the Lot, and legally capable of conferring on you quiet possession of the Lot and that the Sale conforms in every respect with the terms implied by the Sale of Goods Act 1979, Sections 12(1) and 12(3) (see the Definitions and Glossary);

2.1.4 the Seller has complied with all requirements, legal or otherwise, relating to any export or import of the Lot, and all duties and taxes in respect of the export or import of the Lot have (unless stated to the contrary in the Catalogue or announced by the Auctioneer) been paid and, so far as the Seller is aware, all third parties have complied with such requirements in the past;

2.1.5 subject to any alterations expressly identified as such made by announcement or notice at the Sale venue or by the Notice to Bidders or by an insert in the Catalogue, the Lot corresponds with the Contractual Description of the Lot, being that part of the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue which is in bold letters and (except for colour) with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue and the contents of any Condition Report which has been provided to the Buyer.

DESCRIPTIONS OF THE LOT

Paragraph 2.1.5 sets out what is the Contractual Description of the Lot. In particular, the Lot is not sold as corresponding with that part of the Entry in the Catalogue which is not printed in bold letters, which merely sets out (on the Seller’s behalf) Bonhams’ opinion about the Lot and which is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold. Any statement or representation other than that part of the Entry referred to in paragraph 2.1.5 (together with any express alteration to it as referred to in paragraph 2.1.5), including any Description or Estimate, whether made orally in writing, including in the Catalogue or on Bonhams’ Website, or by conduct, or otherwise, and whether by or on behalf of the Seller or Bonhams and whether made prior to or during the Sale, is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold.

Except as provided in paragraph 2.1.5, the Seller does not make or give and does not agree to make or give any contractual promise, undertaking, obligation, guarantee, warranty, or representation of fact, or undertake any duty of care, in relation to any Description of the Lot or any Estimate in relation to it, nor of the accuracy or completeness of any Description or Estimate which may have been made by or on behalf of the Seller including by Bonhams. No such Description or Estimate is incorporated into this Contract for Sale.

FITNESS FOR PURPOSE AND SATISFACTORY QUALITY

4.1 The Seller does not make and does not agree to make any contractual promise, undertaking, obligation, guarantee, warranty, or representation of fact in relation to the satisfactory quality of the Lot or its fitness for any purpose.

4.2 The Seller will not be liable for any breach of any undertaking, whether implied by the Sale of Goods Act 1979 or otherwise, as to the satisfactory quality of the Lot or its fitness for any purpose.

RISK, PROPERTY AND TITLE

5.1 Risk in the Lot passes to you when it is knocked down to you on the fall of the Auctioneer’s hammer in respect of the Lot. The Seller will not be responsible thereafter for the Lot prior to you collecting it from Bonhams or the Storage Contractor, with whom you have separate contract(s) as Buyer. You will indemnify the Seller and keep the Seller fully indemnified from and against all claims, proceedings, costs, expenses and losses arising in respect of any injury, loss and damage caused to theLot after the fall of the Auctioneer’s hammer until you obtain full title to it.

Title to the Lot remains in and is retained by the Seller until the Purchase Price and all other sums payable by you to Bonhams in relation to the Lot have been paid in full, to, and received in cleared funds by, Bonhams.

PAYMENT

6.1 Your obligation to pay the Purchase Price arises when the Lot is knocked down to you on the fall of the Auctioneer’s hammer in respect of the Lot.

6.2 Time will be of the essence in relation to payment of the Purchase Price and all other sums payable by you to Bonhams. Unless agreed in writing with you by Bonhams on the Seller’s behalf (in which case you must comply with the terms of that agreement), all such sums must be paid to Bonhams by you in the currency in which the Sale was conducted by not later than 4.30pm on the second working day following the Sale and you must ensure that the funds are cleared by the seventh working day after the Sale. Payment must be made to Bonhams by one of the methods stated in the Notice to Bidders unless otherwise agreed with you in writing by Bonhams. If you do not pay any sums due in accordance with this paragraph, the Seller will have the rights set out in paragraph 8 below.

COLLECTION OF THE LOT

7.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing with you by Bonhams, the Lot will be released to you or to your order only when Bonhams has received cleared funds to the amount of the full Purchase Price and all other sums owed by you to the Seller and to Bonhams.

7.2 The Seller is entitled to withhold possession from you of any other Lot he has sold to you at the same or at any other Sale and whether currently in Bonhams’ possession or not until payment in full and in cleared funds of the Purchase Price and all other sums due to the Seller and/or Bonhams in respect of the Lot.

7.3 You will collect and remove the Lot at your own expense from Bonhams’ custody and/or control or from the Storage Contractor’s custody in accordance with Bonhams’ instructions or requirements.

7.4 You will be wholly responsible for packing, handling and transport of the Lot on collection and for complying with all import or export regulations in connection with the Lot.

7.5 You will be wholly responsible for any removal, storage or other charges or Expenses incurred by the Seller if you do not remove the Lot in accordance with this paragraph 7 and will indemnify the Seller against all charges, costs, including any legal costs and fees, Expenses and losses suffered by the Seller by reason of your failure to remove the Lot including any charges due under any Storage Contract. All such sums due to the Seller will be payable on demand.
8 FAILURE TO PAY FOR THE LOT

8.1 If the Purchase Price for a Lot is not paid to Bonhams in full in accordance with the Contract for Sale the Seller will be entitled, with the prior written agreement of Bonhams but without further notice to you, to exercise one or more of the following rights (whether through Bonhams or otherwise):

8.1.1 to terminate immediately the Contract for Sale of the Lot for your breach of contract;

8.1.7 to repossess the Lot (or any part thereof) which has not become your property, and for this purpose (unless the Buyer buys the Lot as a Consumer from the Seller selling in the course of a Business) you hereby grant an irrevocable licence to the Seller by himself and to his servants or agents to enter upon all or any of your premises (with or without vehicles) during normal Business hours to take possession of the Lot or part thereof;

8.1.8 to retain possession of any other property sold to you by the Seller at the Sale or any other auction or by private treaty until all sums due under the Contract for Sale shall have been paid in full in cleared funds;

8.1.9 to retain possession of, and on seven days written notice to sell, Without Reserve, any of your other property in the possession of the Seller and/or of Bonhams (as bailee for the Seller) for any purpose (including, without limitation, other goods sold to you) and to apply any monies due to you as a result of such Sale in satisfaction or part satisfaction of any amounts owed to the Seller or to Bonhams; and

8.1.10 so long as such goods remain in the possession of the Seller or Bonhams as its bailee, to resind the contract for the Sale of any other goods sold to you by the Seller at the Sale or at any other auction or by private treaty and apply any monies received from you in respect of such goods in part or full satisfaction of any amounts owed to the Seller or to Bonhams by you.

8.2 You agree to indemnify the Seller against all legal and other costs of enforcement, all losses and other Expenses and costs (including any monies payable to Bonhams in order to obtain the release of the Lot incurred by the Seller (whether or not court proceedings will have been issued) as a result of Bonhams taking steps under this paragraph 8 on a full indemnity basis together with interest thereon (after as well before judgement or order) at the rate specified in paragraph 8.1.6 from the date upon which the Seller becomes liable to pay the same until payment by you.

8.3 On any resale of the Lot under paragraph 8.1.2, the Seller will account to you in respect of any balance remaining from any monies received by him or on his behalf in respect of the Lot, after the payment of all sums due to the Seller and to Bonhams, within 28 days of receipt of such monies by him or on his behalf.

9 THE SELLER’S LIABILITY

9.1 The Seller will not be liable for any injury, loss or damage caused by the Lot after the fall of the Auctioneer’s hammer in respect of the Lot.

9.2 Subject to paragraph 9.3 below, except for breach of the express undertaking provided in paragraph 2.1.5, the Seller will not be liable for any breach of any term that the Seller will be bound with any Description applied to it by or on behalf of the Seller, whether implied by the Sale of Goods Act 1979 or otherwise.

9.3 Unless the Seller sells the Lot in the course of a Business and the Buyer buys it as a Consumer, the Seller will not be liable (whether in negligence, other tort, breach of contract or statutory duty or in restitution or under the Misrepresentation Act 1967, or in any other way) for any lack of conformity with, or inaccurancy, error, misdescription or omission in any Description of the Lot or any Entry or Estimate in relation to the Lot made by or on behalf of the Seller (whether made in writing, including in the Catalogue, or on the Website, or orally, or by conduct or otherwise) and whether made before or after this agreement or prior to or during the Sale;

9.3.3 in any circumstances where the Seller is liable to you in respect of the Lot, or any act, omission, statement, or representation in respect of it, or this agreement or its performance, and whether in damages, for an indemnity or contribution or for a restitutionary remedy or in any way whatsoever, the Seller’s liability will be limited to payment of a sum which will not exceed by way of maximum the amount of the Purchase Price of the Lot (irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of any loss or damage alleged to be suffered) or sum claimed as due, and irrespective of whether the liability arises from any negligence, other tort, breach of contract, statutory duty, bailee’s duty, restitutionary claim or otherwise.

9.4 Nothing set out in paragraphs 9.1 to 9.3 above will be construed as excluding or restricting (whether directly or indirectly) any person's liability or excluding or restricting any person's rights or remedies in respect of (i) fraud, (ii) death or personal injury caused by the Seller's negligence (or any person under the Seller's control or for whom the Seller is legally responsible), or (iii) acts or omissions for which the Seller is liable under the Occupiers’ Liability Act 1957, or (iv) any other liability to the extent the same may not be excluded or restricted as a matter of law.

10.2 The Seller's failure or delay in enforcing or exercising any power or right under the Contract for Sale will not operate or be deemed to operate as a waiver of his rights under it except to the extent of any express waiver given to you in writing. Any such waiver will not affect the Seller's ability subsequently to enforce any right arising under the Contract for Sale.

10.3 If either party to the Contract for Sale is prevented from performing that party's respective obligations under the Contract for Sale by circumstances beyond its reasonable control or if performance of its obligations would by reason of such circumstances give rise to a significantly increased financial cost to it, that party will not, for so long as such circumstances prevail, be required to perform such obligations. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

1 THE CONTRACT

1.1 These terms govern the contract between Bonhams personally and the Buyer, being the person to whom a Lot has been knocked down by the Auctioneer.

1.2 The Definitions and Glossary contained in Appendix 3 to the Catalogue for the Sale are incorporated into this agreement and a separate copy can also be provided by us on request. Where words and phrases which are defined in the Lot of Definitions are used in this agreement, they are printed in italics. Reference is made in this agreement to information printed in the Notice to Bidders, printed in the Catalogue for the Sale, and where such information is referred to it is incorporated into this agreement.

1.3 Except as specified in paragraph 4 of the Notice to Bidders the Contract for Sale of the Lot between you and the Seller is made on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of Lot of the Lot, when it is knocked down to you. At that moment a separate contract is also made between you and Bonhams on the terms in this Buyer's Agreement.

1.4 We act as agents for the Seller and are not answerable or personally responsible to you for any breach of contract or other default by the Seller, unless Bonhams sells the Lot as principal.

1.5 Our personal obligations to you are governed by this agreement and we agree, subject to the terms below, to the following obligations:

1.5.1 we will, until the date and time specified in the Notice to Bidders or otherwise notified to you, store the Lot in accordance with paragraph 5;

No such Description or Estimate is incorporated into this agreement between you and us. Any such Description or Estimate, if made by us or on our behalf, was (unless Bonhams itself sells the Lot as principal) made as agent on behalf of the Seller.

2 PERFORMANCE OF THE CONTRACT FOR SALE

You undertake to us personally that you will observe and comply with all your obligations and undertakings to the Seller under the Contract for Sale in respect of the Lot.

3 PAYMENT

3.1 Unless agreed in writing between you and us or as otherwise set out in the Notice to Bidders, you must pay to us by not later than 4.30pm on the second working day following the Sale the

3.1.1 the Purchase Price for the Lot;

3.1.2 a Buyer's Premium in accordance with the rates set out in the Notice to Bidders on each lot, and

You must also pay us on demand any Expenses payable pursuant to this agreement.

3.2 All payments to us must be made in the currency in which the Sale was conducted, using, unless otherwise agreed by us in writing, one of the methods of payment set out in the Notice to Bidders. Our invoices will only be addressed to the registered Bidder unless the Bidder is acting as an agent for a named principal and we have approved that arrangement, in which case we will address the invoice to the principal.

3.3 Unless otherwise stated in this agreement all sums are payable to us or will be subject to VAT at the appropriate rate and VAT will be payable by you on all such sums.

We may deduct and retain for our own benefit from the monies paid by you to us the Buyer's Premium, the Commission payable by the Seller in respect of the Lot, any Expenses and VAT and any interest earned and/or incurred until payment to the Seller.

3.5 Time will be of the essence in relation to any payment payable to us. If you do not pay the Purchase Price, or any other sum due to us in accordance with this paragraph 3, we will have the rights set out in paragraph 7 below.

Where a number of Lots have been knocked down to you, any monies we receive from you will be applied firstly pro-rata to pay the Purchase Price of each Lot, and secondly pro-rata to pay all amounts due to Bonhams.

4 COLLECTION OF THE LOT

Subject to any power of the Seller or us to refuse to release the Lot to you, once you have paid to us, in cleared funds, everything due to the Seller and to us, we will release the Lot to you or as you may direct us in writing. The Lot will only be released on production of a buyer collection document, obtained from our cashier's office.

You must collect and remove the Lot at your own expense by the date and time specified in the Notice to Bidders, or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale.

For the period referred to in paragraph 4.2, the Lot can be collected from the address referred to in the Notice to Bidders for collection on the days and times specified in the Notice to Bidders. Thereafter, the Lot may be removed elsewhere for storage and you must enquire from us as to when and where you can collect it, although this information will usually be set out in the Notice to Bidders.

6 RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE LOT

6.1 Only on the payment of the Purchase Price to us will title in the Lot pass to you. However under the Contract for Sale, the risk in the Lot passed to you when it was knocked down to you.

6.2 You are advised to obtain insurance in respect of the Lot as soon as possible after the Sale.

If you have not collected the Lot by the date specified in the Notice to Bidders, you authorise us, acting as your agent and on your behalf, to enter into a contract (the “Storage Contract”) with the Storage Contractor for the storage of the Lot on the then current standard terms and conditions agreed between Bonhams and the Storage Contractor (copies of which are available on request). If the Lot is stored at our premises storage fees at our current daily rates (currently a minimum of £3 plus VAT per Lot per day) will be payable from the expiry of the period referred to in paragraph 4.2. These storage fees form part of our Expenses.

You undertake to comply with the terms of any Storage Contract and in particular to pay the charges (and all costs of removing the Lot into storage) due under any Storage Contract. You acknowledge and agree that you will not be able to collect the Lot from the Storage Contractor’s premises until you have paid the Purchase Price, any Expenses and all charges due under the Storage Contract.

STORING THE LOT

We agree to store the Lot until the earlier of your removal of the Lot or until the time and date set out in the Notice to Bidders, on the Sale Information Page or at the back of the catalogue (or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale) and, subject to paragraphs 6 and 10, to be responsible as bailee to you for damage to or the loss or destruction of the Lot (notwithstanding that it is not your property before payment of the Purchase Price). If you do not collect the Lot before the time and date set out in the Notice to Bidders (or if no date is specified, by 4.30pm on the seventh day after the Sale) we may remove the Lot to another location, the details of which will usually be set out in the relevant section of the Catalogue. If you have not paid for the Lot in accordance with paragraph 3, and the Lot is moved to any third party's premises, the Lot will be held by such third party strictly in Bonhams' order and we will retain our lien over the Lot until we have been paid in full in accordance with paragraph 3.
7 FAILURE TO PAY OR TO REMOVE THE LOT AND PART PAYMENTS

7.1 If all sums payable to us are not so paid in full at the time they are due and/or the Lot is not removed in accordance with this agreement, we will without further notice to you be entitled to exercise one or more of the following rights (without prejudice to any rights we may exercise on behalf of the Seller):

7.1.1 to terminate this agreement immediately for your breach of contract;

7.1.2 to retain possession of the Lot;

7.1.3 to remove, and/or store the Lot at your expense;

7.1.5 to be paid interest on any monies due to us (after as well as before judgement or order) at the annual rate of 5% per annum above the base lending rate of National Westminster Bank Plc from time to time to be calculated on a daily basis from the date upon which such monies become payable until the date of actual payment;

7.1.6 to repossess the Lot (or any part thereof) which has not become your property, and for this purpose (unless you buy the Lot as a Consumer) you hereby grant an irrevocable licence to us, by ourselves, our servants or agents, to enter upon all or any of your premises (with or without vehicles) during normal business hours to take possession of any Lot or part thereof;

7.1.7 to sell the Lot Without Reserve by auction, private treaty or any other means on giving you three months' written notice of our intention to so do;

7.1.8 to retain possession of any of your other property in our possession for any purpose (including, without limitation, other goods sold to you or with us for Sale) until all sums due to us have been paid in full;

7.1.9 to apply any monies received from you for any purpose whether at the time of your default or at any time thereafter in payment or part payment of any sums due to us by you under this agreement;

7.1.10 on three months' written notice to sell, Without Reserve, any of your other property in our possession or under our control for any purpose (including other goods sold to you or with us for Sale) and to apply any monies due to you as a result of such Sale in payment or part payment of any amounts owed to us;

7.1.11 refuse to allow you to register for a future Sale or to reject a bid from you at any future Sale or to require you to pay a deposit before any bid is accepted by us at any future Sale in which case we will be entitled to apply such deposit in payment or part payment, as the case may be, of the Purchase Price of any Lot of which you are the Buyer.

7.2 You agree to indemnify us against all legal and other costs, all losses and all other Expenses (whether or not court proceedings will have been issued) incurred by us as a result of our taking steps under this paragraph 7 on a full indemnity basis together with interest thereon (after as well as before judgement or order) at the rate specified in paragraph 7.1.5 from the date upon which we become liable to pay the same until payment by you.

7.3 If you pay us only part of the sums due to us such payment shall be applied firstly to the Purchase Price of the Lot (or where you have purchased more than one Lot pro-rata towards the Purchase Price of each Lot) and secondly to the Buyer's Premium (or where you have purchased more than one Lot pro-rata to the Buyer's Premium on each Lot) and thirdly to any other sums due to us.

7.4 We will account to you in respect of any balance we hold remaining from any monies received by us in respect of any Sale of the Lot under our rights under this paragraph 7 after the payment of all sums due to us and/or the Seller within 28 days of receipt by us of all such sums paid to us.

8 CLAIMS BY OTHER PERSONS IN RESPECT OF THE LOT

8.1 Whenever it becomes apparent to us that the Lot is the subject of a claim by someone other than you and other than the Seller (or that such a claim can reasonably be expected to be made), we may, at our absolute discretion, deal with the Lot in any manner which appears to us to recognise the legitimate interests of ourselves and the other parties involved and lawfully to protect our position and our legitimate interests. Without prejudice to the generality of the discretion and by way of example, we may:

8.1.1 retain the Lot to investigate any question raised or reasonably expected to be raised in relation to the Lot; and/or

8.1.2 deliver the Lot to a person other than you; and/or

8.1.3 commence interpleader proceedings or seek any other order of any court, mediator, arbitrator or government body; and/or 8.1.4 require an indemnity and/or security from you in return for pursing a course of action agreed to by you.

8.2 The discretion referred to in paragraph 8.1:

8.2.1 may be exercised at any time during which we have actual or constructive possession of the Lot, or at any time after such possession, where the cessation of such possession has occurred by reason of any decision, order or rule of any court, mediator, arbitrator or government body; and

8.2.2 will not be exercised unless we believe that there exists a serious prospect of a good arguable case in favour of the claim.

9 FORGERIES

9.1 We undertake a personal responsibility for any Forgery in accordance with the terms of this paragraph 9.

9.2 Paragraph 9 applies only if:

9.2.1 your name appears as the named person to whom the original invoice was made out by us in respect of the Lot and that invoice has been paid; and

9.2.2 you notify us in writing as soon as reasonably practicable after you have become aware that the Lot is or may be a Forgery, and in any event within one year after the Sale, that the Lot is a Forgery; and

9.2.3 within one month after such notification has been given, you return the Lot to us in the same condition as it was at the time of the Sale, accompanied by written evidence that the Lot is a Forgery; and details of the Sale and Lot number sufficient to identify the Lot.

9.3 Paragraph 9 will not apply in respect of a Forgery if:

9.3.1 the Entry in relation to the Lot contained in the Catalogue reflected the then accepted general opinion of scholars and experts or fairly indicated that there was a conflict of such opinion or reflected the then current opinion of an expert acknowledged to be a leading expert in the relevant field; or 9.3.2 it can be established that the Lot is a Forgery only by means of a process not generally accepted for use until after the date on which the Catalogue was published or by means of a process which it was unreasonable in all the circumstances for us to have employed.

9.4 You authorise us to carry out such processes and tests on the Lot as we at our absolute discretion consider necessary to satisfy ourselves that the Lot is or is not a Forgery.

9.5 If we are satisfied that a Lot is a Forgery we will (as principal) purchase the Lot from you and you will transfer the title to the Lot in question to us, with full title guarantee, free from any liens, charges, encumbrances and adverse claims, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 12(1) and 12(2) of the Sale of Goods Act 1979 and we will pay to you an amount equal to the sum of the Purchase Price, Buyer's Premium, VAT and Expenses paid by you in respect of the Lot.

9.6 The benefit of paragraph 9 is personal to, and incapable of assignment by, you.

9.7 If you sell or otherwise dispose of your interest in the Lot, all rights and benefits under this paragraph will cease.

9.8 Paragraph 9 does not apply to a Lot made up of or including a Chinese painting or Chinese paintings, a motor vehicle or motor vehicles, a Stamp or Stamps or a Book or Books.

10 OUR LIABILITY

10.1 We will not be liable whether in negligence, other tort, breach of contract or statutory duty or in restitution or under the Misrepresentation Act 1967 or in any other way for lack of conformity with or any inaccuracy, error, misdescription or omission in any Description of the Lot or any Entry or Estimate in respect of it, made by us or on our behalf or by or on behalf of the Seller (whether made in writing, including in the Catalogue, or on the Bonhams’ Website, or orally, or by conduct or otherwise) and whether made before or after this agreement or prior to or during the Sale.

10.2 Our duty to you while the Lot is at your risk and/or your property and in our custody and/or control is to exercise reasonable care in relation to it, but we will not be responsible for damage to the Lot or to other persons or things caused by:

10.2.3 damage to tension stringed musical instruments; or

10.2.4 damage to gilded picture frames, plaster picture frames or picture frame glaz; and if the Lot is or becomes dangerous, we may dispose of it without notice to you in advance in any manner we think fit and we will be under no liability to you for so doing.
10.3.1 We will not be liable to you for any loss of Business, Business profits, revenue or income or for loss of Business reputation or for disruption to Business or wasted time on the part of the Buyer’s management or staff or, if you are buying the Lot in the course of a Business, for any indirect losses or consequential damages of any kind, irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of the loss or damage alleged to be suffered, and irrespective of whether the said loss or damage is caused by or claimed in respect of any negligence, other tort, breach of contract, statutory duty, bailee’s duty, a restitutionary claim or otherwise.

10.3.2 Unless you buy the Lot as a Consumer, in any circumstances where we are liable to you in respect of a Lot, or any act, omission, statement, representation in respect of it, or this agreement or its performance under the Occupiers Liability Act 1957, or (ii) any other liability to the extent the same may not be excluded or restricted as a matter of law, or (v) under our undertaking in paragraph 9 of these conditions.

You may wish to protect yourself against loss by obtaining insurance.

you notify us in writing as soon as reasonably practicable after you have become aware that the Lot is or may be a non-conforming Lot, and in any event within 20 days after the Sale (or such longer period as we may agree in writing) that the Lot is a non-conforming Lot; and within 20 days of the date of the relevant Sale (or such longer period as we may agree in writing) you return the Lot to us in the same condition as it was at the time of the Sale, accompanied by written evidence that the Lot is a non-conforming Lot and details of the Sale and Lot number sufficient to identify the Lot.

but not if:

the Entry in the Catalogue in respect of the Lot indicates that the rights given by this paragraph do not apply to it; or the Lot comprises atlases, maps, autographs, manuscripts, extra illustrated books, music or periodical publications; or the Lot was listed in the Catalogue under “collections” or “collections and various” or the Lot was stated in the Catalogue to comprise or contain a collection, issue or Book which are undervalued or the missing text or illustrations are referred to or the relevant parts of the Book contain blanks, half titles or advertisements.

If we are reasonably satisfied that a Lot is a non-conforming Lot, we will (as principal) purchase the Lot from you and you will transfer the title to the Lot in question to us, with a full title guarantee, free from any liens, charges, encumbrances and adverse claims and we will pay to you an amount equal to the sum of the Purchase Price and Buyer’s Premium paid by you in respect of the Lot.

The benefit of paragraph 10 is personal to, and incapable of assignment by, you and if you sell or otherwise dispose of your interest in the Lot, all rights and benefits under this paragraph will cease.
