Jean Leymarie, Zao Wou-Ki, Paris 1986, p. 338, no. 433, illustrated in black and white Globally renowned and celebrated for his energetic paintings that traversed the cultural distances between East and West, Zao Wou-Ki's 23-9-70 reveals the immense skill of the artist's hand that combines the fluidity and harmony of the calligraphic arts with the avant-garde style of the Art Informel members, who embraced him as one of the masters of gestural painting of the period. Dancing across an ethereal haze, Zao's accumulation of strokes and dabs produces a horizon line of vivid scarlet that rolls and draws the eye to its diffuse precipice. Completely fresh to the market – and reproduced in all three of the important Jean Leymarie monographs – the present painting is a veritable masterwork by one of the first truly international artists of the post-war period.

Elegant and profound, 23-9-70 is a painting that boasts a rare palette for the Chinese-born artist. Across a canvas of exquisite proportions, it is a work of melodic beauty that wonderfully illustrates Zao's core intention of merging traditional Chinese practices of artistic expression in ink with the dynamic compositional and material processes of abstract oil painting that was so prevalent in European and American Modernism. As one of the most admired practitioners of the Twentieth Century, Zao's global style and appeal is attested to by his inclusion in museum collections around the world, including the Tate Gallery, London, the MoMA, New York, the Suzhou Museum, Suzhou, and the China Central Academy of Fine Arts in Beijing.

Zao Wou-Ki was born in Beijing in 1920 and enrolled at the Hangzhou School of Art in 1935, where he trained under one of the uncommon proponents of European Modernism in China, Lin Fengmian. Learned in the techniques and principles of Chinese calligraphy and traditional painting from an early age, Zao's indistinguishable style and gestural power imbued his work with an univocal force, whose sonorous and dulcet passages of paint owe much to his study of ancient script and landscape painting.

Inspired by Claude Monet's Impressionism, and with a great admiration for Henri Matisse and Paul Klee, the artist cultivated a deep appreciation for the pre-war Impressionists and groundbreaking Modernists of Paris, moving to the city in 1948 with his then wife Lalan. In this intense and graceful work, his influences merge in a tranquil theatre of paint, that demonstrates his exceptional breadth of vision and skill.

Zao's arrival in Europe was quickly met with praise, and his new studio in Montparnasse placed him in the midst of some of the most influential artists of the period. He soon befriended Alberto Giacometti, Joan Miró, Pierre Soulages, Pablo Picasso and Henri Michaux, with whom he would collaborate throughout his lifetime. It was in 1957, alongside his friend Soulages, that Zao first visited New York – the same year he became represented by Galerie de France, cementing his place amongst the European creative elite. Exposed to the vigour and intensity of the paintings of Franz Kline and Jackson Pollock, the turn of the 1960s marked a significant departure for the artist, entering his most majestic and lauded passage of work, the 'Hurricane Period' (1959-1972), from which the present work derives.

It is within this phase of his practice that, as art historian Pierre Schneider highlighted, "the effervescence [that at] first reached the intermediate areas, has [now] been communicated to the whole picture. A broadly sweeping, irresistible movement crosses it from edge to edge" (Pierre Schneider in: Jean Leymarie, Zao Wou-Ki, Barcelona 1977, p. 43). The immensity of the space, conveyed by the most intricate and precise of gestural marks, produced a new paradigm of expressive painting, illustrated in no better example than the present work. 23-9-70 is a deeply mature work, coupling Zao Wou-Ki's stylistic imperatives with the advanced, cross-cultural narratives that his paintings arguably pioneered.

Laced with cursive lines of brushstrokes over a lavishly textured surface, the present work is a bravura demonstration of the impeccable variety of techniques and unparalleled skill with which Zao constructed his works. The voluptuous and rare red composition beautifully elicits the diversity of his influences and interests, producing a powerful sense of light, space and movement that was so integral to his pursuit of a universal spirit of abstraction.

Literature

Max Loreau, Catalogue des travaux de Jean Dubuffet: Fascicule XXI: L'Hourloupe II, Paris 1968, p. 115,
no. 194, illustrated in black and white

A signature work by an artist who consistently reinvented painterly aesthetics, broke with convention, and cemented his place as one of the most esteemed figures of Modernist history, Cafetière V is a bravura example of Jean Dubuffet's iconic Hourloupe style. Boldly demonstrative of the artist's utterly unique assemblage of shapes in a flawless spread of colours and hatching, Cafetière V is a museum-quality painting of undeniable prestige and charm.

Like Pablo Picasso and Georges Braque before him, Dubuffet's Utensiles Utopiques describe the static object with all the animation and panache of his Cubist forebears – whose pedigree can be seen in such works as Picasso's Nature Morte "La Cafetière" (1944), now in the collection of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, and Paul Cézanne's still lives – illustrating, through the artist's self-created style, the ingenuity and dexterity of his practice that repudiated the 'stillness' of the object. Cafetière V, fashioned in the quintessential jigsaw of shaded and blotted shapes in the instantly identifiable black, red, white and blue of Hourloupe, is a highly attractive and well-proportioned work from Dubuffet's very limited series of Cafetières; intricately layered and suffused with passages of gestural flair that testify to the artist's virtuosic technique. Preoccupied by translating the landscapes of the mind, Dubuffet's litany of objects that make up the core of his Hourloupe cycle are rendered in an unwavering graphic script or écriture, a visual language through which Dubuffet aimed to secure the emphatic spectacle of his imaginary pictorial world.

Hugely influential for contemporary artists, designers and architects alike, Dubuffet remains at the forefront of institutional discourse – with his current exhibition of Hourloupe paintings on view at Palazzo Franchetti in Venice coinciding with La Biennale – Cafetière V is an outstanding painting that is so evocative of his most fertile and innovative phase of production. Globally acclaimed and exhibited, Dubuffet's paintings are held in collections all over the world, including the Stedelijk Museum, Amsterdam, the Musée National d'Art Moderne, Paris, the Art Institute of Chicago, the National Gallery of Art, Washington, and the National Museum of Western Art in Tokyo.

Discovering his inimitable style in the 1940s, the artist quickly developed global admiration following his debut in the United States of America at Pierre Matisse Gallery in 1947. Born in La Havre in 1901, Dubuffet left for Paris in 1918, working alongside Fernand Léger and Juan Gris whilst studying at the Académie Julian. Dubuffet, however, already developing his uniquely spirited and rebellious flair, departed his studies prematurely, deeming academy training to be too prescriptive. Inspired by "outsider art," or what he termed Art Brut, he cultivated a style and method that went against the formalities of traditionalism, establishing his meteoric reemergence in the 1940s after being amongst the École de Paris 20 years prior, as a truly groundbreaking artist of the Twentieth Century.

Commanding an exceptional artistic versatility and skill, Dubuffet's iconic L'Hourloupe cycle remains one of the French artist's most celebrated styles. Combining his appreciation of Art Brut with the formal, painterly lessons of his preceding Paris Circus works, in addition to the cellularity of his Terres radieuses and Légendes series, Cafetière V is a painting from this most pivotal passage of the artist's career, showing Dubuffet at the height of his artistic powers in the middle of the 1960s and encapsulating the dynamism and radicality of his revival of the still life genre in his Hourloupe period.

This passage of his practice in the 1960s and 1970s provided Dubuffet with an original and profound aesthetic vocabulary – a formal mechanism through which to negotiate the world as he saw it. For Dubuffet, the subjective experience and intricacies of perception drew him consistently back to Art Brut and his personal collection of art by prisoners, clairvoyants and isolated individuals, which he had begun in 1945, fascinated by the 'purity' of art made free of cultural import. In the artist's own words, "art addresses the mind, and not the eyes. That is how it has always been regarded by "primitive" societies; and they are correct. Art is a language, an instrument of cognition and communication" (the artist in: Jean Dubuffet: Towards an alternative reality: Writings by Jean Dubuffet, New York 1987, p. 7).

In the totemic power of Cafetière V, illuminated in a shimmering white over the matte black of its background, it is clear to see how Hourloupe provided such a pivotal and abundant source of inspiration. Captivated by the world of his newfound style, Dubuffet would go on to produce his Peintures monumentées, Coucou Bazar and Édifices from 1966 onwards; sculptures, stage sets and structures that translated and concretized his elemental écriture into three dimensions. Writer André Pieyre de Mandiargues offered an alternative perspective on Hourloupe, “that of ‘monde vu à la loupe’, the world seen through a magnifying glass [...] it is in this way that the paintings of Hourloupe occasionally afford us a view of man as distinct from his social entanglement; so also do they often show us the objects of his industry divorced from their human context” (André Pieyre de Mandiargues, ‘The Objects of L’Hourloupe,’ trans. Christopher Case, in: Exh. Cat., London, Robert Fraser Gallery, Jean Dubuffet: Recent Paintings, n.p.).

A painting that eloquently combines Dubuffet’s career-spanning interest in the unbridled, pure form of individualistic artistic expression with the unique graphic style of his Hourloupe cycle, Cafetière V is a work made at the peak of the artist’s painting practice, mere months before his focus turned to sculpture and architecture for the remainder of the series. It is in his quest for aesthetic equality – applying the same formal method to object and subject alike – that the “meandering, uninterrupted and resolutely uniform line, which brings all planes to the surface and takes no account of the concrete quality of the object described [...] applied to all things reduces them to a common denominator and restores to us a continuous undifferentiated universe” (the artist in: Op. Cit. , p. 15).

A stand-out painting of attractive proportions from his extremely limited series of distinctive Cafetières that rarely come to market, Cafetière V is a painting of exquisite composition and skill that is one of the best examples of Dubuffet’s Hourloupe period. An artist of supreme international appeal, it represents a signature piece by one of the premier artists of the last century.

Presented here are two early and rare works from Jean Dubuffet's first lengthy travels to Algiers and El Goléa, Algeria, in 1948 – a period of exploration that exerted a considerable influence on his work. Full of the artist's characteristic élan and spontaneous style, these works - Deux Chameaux Bâtés, with its camels and palms, and Deux bédouins, depicting the nomads whose itinerant life the artist greatly appreciated – are not only documents of Dubuffet's significant time in the Northern Sahara, but bold precursors to his Personnages that appear across his oeuvre, notably in his Théâtre de mémoire and Paris circus series.

Living alongside the Berbers of Algeria until May 1948, Dubuffet was energised by the nomadic life of the native peoples, constantly moving and adapting to their changing needs. For an artist who had a similarly polymathic and shifting approach to style and medium, these two works highlight the innate talent of an artist who sought alternative and breakthrough methods with which to approach painting, strikingly going against the culture of the time.

As one of the most influential artists of the Twentieth Century, Dubuffet's wonderfully idiosyncratic and energetic style has inspired many contemporary painters. The expressive directness and brio with which he approached his subjects was unparalleled, honed and crafted from his years of studying Art Brut and during his extensive travels, absorbing the range of cultures of Northern Africa and Europe in the formative years of his career. Deux Chameaux Bâtés and Deux bédouins are superb examples from an important passage of Dubuffet's early years that saw him emerge as a formidable auteur of the European Modernist canon.

Literature

Alexis Poliakoff, Serge Poliakoff: Catalogue Raisonné, Volume IV, 1963-1965, Paris 2012, p. 136, no. 64-09, illustrated in colour

Executed in 1964, Composition abstraite by Serge Poliakoff is an exemplary illustration of the artist's search for balance, harmony and monumentality of form in his iconic paintings. Intensely layered and fastidiously sculpted – building up granular surfaces of rich reds and muted blues over one another – Composition abstraite is a testament to Poliakoff's immense talent and underappreciation as a stalwart of European abstraction in the middle of the Twentieth Century.

Magnificent in scale and aglow with the highly attractive, potent crimson of Poliakoff's archetypal grouping of forms, the present work reaches its crescendo in an energetic compression of shapes that draws its centrifuge into a piercing vertical. Owing much to his Cubist forebears and challenging the hegemony of the New York school of abstract painters that included Willem de Kooning and Jackson Pollock, Poliakoff's interlocking planes of colour were amongst the most novel aesthetic developments of the period, culminating in a true affirmation of his significance for European painting when he represented France at the Venice Biennale in 1962, the same year he was awarded French citizenship.

A bridge between the Russian Suprematism of Kazimir Malevich and the European canon, Poliakoff is a pivotal artist of the Modernist period whose historic importance is assured, being held worldwide in museum collections that include the Museum of Modern Art, New York and the Tate Gallery in London.

Born in 1900 in Moscow, Poliakoff left Russia in 1917 following the Revolution, making his way across Europe before arriving in Paris in 1923. Quickly establishing his capability and skill as a painter, he studied at the Académie Forchot and the prestigious Académie de la Grande Chaumière. It was not until relocating to London in 1935 to study at the Slade School of Art, however, that Poliakoff truly discovered his fascination with geometric abstraction, owing much to the friendships he had formed with Robert and Sonia Delaunay, as well as Wassily Kandinsky, during this time.

In the present work, the influence of these first-generation abstract painters breathes through the eloquent colours and crisp margins of his assemblage. A painting of gravitas and impact, Composition abstraite has the effect of an orchestral polyphony, matching major and minor keys in a bold symmetry of timbres; a musical harmony that can undoubtedly be further attributed to Poliakoff's consummate skill as a professional musician.

Contrasting and complimenting expertly mixed hues in an irregular jigsaw of shapes, Poliakoff's quintessential style produced a harmonious dissonance that captured the spirit of new abstraction in Paris in the 1950s and 60s. Art critic Charles Estienne wrote of "the massive stillness [...] and radiance of Poliakoff's art," continuing, "who else today could achieve such simplicity in the domain of plastic abstraction? [...] In any case, Poliakoff, who is one of the best abstract painters of his generation, is also one of the few in his age group who is so indisputably a painter" (Charles Estienne in: Serge Poliakoff: Monograph, Gérard Durozoi, Paris 2005, p. 176).

In Composition abstraite, the accomplished hand of a certified master of colour is palpably present. A painting of maturity and panache, Poliakoff divides the canvas precisely in two halves, demarcated by the vivid reds and lucent blues of the respective passages. Such an acrobatic feat of composition remains superbly understated in a painting where competing colours and tones are fused in a rhythmic balance of forms; an arrangement that would be impossible to unify were it not for the adept talent the artist has for marrying colour and composition.

Widely exhibited and completely fresh to the market, this painting reveals Poliakoff's mastery of craft; synthesising the abstract formal underpinnings of Cubism and Suprematism that were so influential for the artist, with the brushwork and texture of an academy-trained virtuoso.

Alighiero Boetti is a pioneer of the Post-Modern age and one of the earliest revolutionary practitioners to use language as a formal device. Having influenced a generation of artists such as Barbara Kruger, Jenny Holzer and Lawrence Weiner he is an artist of superb intellect and broad aesthetic sense. In Oggi il trentesimo del quarto mese uno nove otto nove (Today is the thirtieth of the fourth month one nine eight nine) from 1989, Boetti pushes the limits of his ideas to their aesthetic limit, presenting an arazzo (tapestry) that is not only beautiful to the eye, but incorporates a wealth of processes, histories and ideas that enrich the kaleidoscopic grid of Latin and Farsi characters. Apparently chaotic and random at first glance, the present work elegantly hides the underlying rigour with which it is composed; a cryptographic game that draws the viewer into its dazzling visual mechanism.

Strikingly radiant and brightly coloured, the present grid is an exemplary, mosaic-like work from one of Boetti's best-known series, the Arazzi. Made in collaboration with traditional Afghan embroiderers, first in Kabul before moving to a workshop in Peshawar, Pakistan after the outbreak of the Afghan war in 1979, such tapestries emerged as dynamic, vivid patterns that expressed the wonderful intricacies of Boetti's practice. Interested in ordine e disordine – his concept of a natural balance that the artist believed existed in the world between order and chaos – in the present work, words and sayings are knotted and woven into grids that conceal their meaning until discovered.

In such enigmatic riddles – beginning from top left – as 'i verbi irregolari' ('irregular verbs'), 'il dolce far niente' ('sweet nothing') and 'regola e regolarsi' ('rules and regulations'), the artist poses no questions and offers no answers. Instead, the poetry of the language and the beauty of their form is the integral element of their choosing. Arranged in a quad of concentric squares, one inside of another, intended to be read left-to-right or top-to-bottom, Boetti's Arazzi perform precisely this function, to elevate language to its highest aesthetic form, abstracting it from representative meaning or linguistic function, orientated into a Minimalist grid of colours.

Such a groundbreaking conceptual notion of art has made Boetti one of the most valued and respected artists of the latter half of the Twentieth Century – a true pioneer, precursor and influence to many contemporary artists working today. With works held in the Museum of Modern Art, New York, Castello di Rivoli Museum of Contemporary Art, Turin, and the Museum of Contemporary Art, Sydney, Boetti has proved his immense global appeal. Honoured posthumously in 2011 with a major retrospective of his oeuvre at the Reina Sofia Museum in Madrid, which then travelled to Tate Modern in London and the Museum of Modern Art in New York, the artist has seen a consolidation of his value both institutionally and in the market.

Briefly associated with the Arte Povera movement, Boetti cut ties with the group in 1972, but his acquired taste for recycling the commonplace or "non-art" continued even as a conceptual hook, finding the very fabric of communication his newfound tool. Completely original in his thinking and hugely celebrated for his influential contribution to the Post-Modern canon, Boetti repurposed language as a medium, opening up a new experience as curator Mark Godfrey suggests, "in which we read words differently and appreciate the shapes and colours of letters, rather than just approaching language for its information and instrumental purposes" (Mark Godfrey, Alighiero e Boetti, London 2009, pp. 128-129). An arazzo of exceptional quality, whose colours and composition remain fresh and vivid, Oggi il trentesimo del quarto mese uno nove otto nove is an elegantly sized canvas that boasts a striking spread of text and colours. Laced with poetic, enigmatic and compelling phrases, it is an extraordinary work by one of the most important and influential European conceptualists.

A work of pure chromatic intensity, broken only by the artist's iconic and revolutionary gesture of piercing the canvas with a rhythmic chorus of cuts, Lucio Fontana's Concetto spaziale, Attese (1960) is a sterling demonstration of the artist's serene incisions that crowned him one of the most important and influential artists of the Twentieth Century. Leaving a legacy that irreversibly transformed the philosophical and technical preconceptions of Modern painting, the present work is an exceptional example of Fontana's period-defining tagli (cuts) that he began in 1958, making this one of the earliest monochrome variations to be painted in waterpaint, with works from previous years executed with aniline.

The gorgeous yellow hue, unmistakably incised four times, radiates from a rich, matte surface over a canvas whose dimensions elevate the delicacy, precision and drama of the artist's quintessential gesture. Fresh to the market, Concetto spaziale, Attese is a particularly beautiful example of Fontana's tagli that can boast such an elegant composition, size and colour. As one of the most groundbreaking artists of the Modernist period, his work is held in museum collections around the world, including the Tate collection, London, the Guggenheim Museum, New York, the Museo Nacional de Bellas Artes, Argentina, and the Galleria Nazionale d'Arte Moderna e Contemporanea in Rome.

Born in Argentina in 1899 before moving to Italy in 1905, Fontana was an artist who was deeply moved and inspired by the scientific breakthroughs of his day whose self-invented philosophy went beyond the horizons of contemporary art. For Fontana, painting had to adapt to the new conditions of exploration that he saw in the quickening Space Race of the 1950s and 1960s, namely: going beyond the 'surface' in order to break through to another dimension. Surviving the immense turbulence of Europe between two world wars, Fontana's tagli, furthermore, can undoubtedly be read as going beyond reality – beyond the horrors and shared histories, events and beliefs that painting had for so long traditionally upheld.

By cutting through the canvas, Fontana tears painting from its realist, representative form and opens up an abstracted dimension that is to be found – quite literally – within the canvas. In the radiant surface of the present work, the tension between the golden, incandescent canvas and the plunging depths of the four exquisite incisions confers upon the work a sanguine air of exuberance; an undeniable brilliance that is unique to a work as precise as Concetto spaziale, Attese. Belying its size, the radiant surface of the present work conjures the shimmering golden light of the sun that became an idée fixe for Fontana – captivated by the infinite space lying just beyond the reach of humanity. Titled 'spatial concept, expectations', Fontana's enduring project that proposes a new method and concept of space in painting – beyond the illusionistic – takes on a transcendental slant; pausing, expecting, waiting to breach the cusp of the artist's self-created dimension.

As the founder of the Spazialismo movement in 1947, Fontana was a consummate wordsmith, producing a series of manifestos and essays that established the conceptual logic behind his practice. He wrote, in his 1946 Manifesto bianco, "the discovery of new physical forces and the control of matter and space will gradually impose new conditions that have not been previously known to man in the entirety of the course of history. The application of these discoveries to all of the modalities of life will produce a modification in the nature of man. Man will take on a new psychic structure" (the artist in: Guido Ballo, L. Fontana: Idea per un ritratto, New York 1971, p. 186). Fontana's writings attest to his fundamental interest in changing the aesthetic parameters that he felt must remain in-step with the contemporary concerns of scientific and philosophical enquiry. The artist's unrivalled combination of technicality, aesthetics and intellect drove him to produce arguably the most evocative and unmistakable series of works in his tagli. Elegant, chic and a wholly original, Fontana's sensational, almost choreographed gestures share a performative resonance with the likes of Jackson Pollock and Yves Klein, whose capitalising of the flat picture plane – throwing, dripping and impressing paint upon it – anointed them the avant-gardes of their day. Fontana's tagli, however, combine the monochrome surface with the gesture, piercing the canvas and boldly breaking with the conventions of 'flatness' in a completely novel process, producing one of the most dramatic aesthetic leaps of the period that proved so influential for the Dutch Nul and German ZERO groups.

Whilst Fontana had been puncturing the canvas prior to his tagli in his buchi (holes) paintings, it was not until he instituted his monochrome cuts with a blade that his work takes on a serene, violent and beautiful quality. The enigmatic sweeps of the blade in the present work creates a symphony of diagonals that waver and amplify across the canvas, an effect that is only truly observed in Fontana's tagli with at least four slashes.

A perfect balance between size, colour and number of cuts, Concetto spaziale, Attese is a majestic painting from the first two years of Fontana's productions of tagli, and one of the earliest produced in waterpaint. A canvas that commands a profundity and prowess in its absolute simplicity and evocation of radiant sunlight over divided shadows, it affirms Fontana's hugely important and influential position as one of the Twentieth Century's most revolutionary artists.

Bonhams is delighted to present the following two works by Jean Dubuffet and Josef Albers on behalf of a distinguished private European collection that has been carefully assembled over a period of more than 50 years.

Both completely fresh to the market, Brouette I (avec un chou) is an elegant work on paper belonging to Dubuffet's famous Hourloupe series. Josef Albers' Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) is a very rare and powerful painting which was executed in 1947, the year the artist began this acclaimed series.

Demonstrating a refined taste, this visionary lover of art researched, studied and travelled extensively to source the artworks which range from important Post-War & Contemporary art to exquisite Chinese ceramics, in addition to Impressionist & Modern works.

Also a successful man of business, he was an active philanthropist, supporting prominent artists in the early stages of their career as well as discreetly supporting charities fighting poverty and helping disabled people.

Josef Albers' Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) from 1947 is a work of delicate beauty and balance, painted in one of the artist's most exquisite colour combinations. Albers' legacy as an artist and theoretician was hugely significant, influencing the emergence of Colour Field Painting, Geometric Abstraction and Op Art. Appearing layered and complex, the immaculately rendered surface of greys over a rich venetian red is expertly painted in a single layer, projecting shadows and spaces across the work in a dynamic composition that evokes the Mesoamerican patterns that Albers was so captivated by.

Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) is one of an incredibly small number of paintings on blotting paper that the artist personally laid down on board at the time of its making. Made during his study trips to La Luz, New Mexico and Mexico in 1947 whilst on sabbatical from teaching at Black Mountain College in North Carolina, Albers was enthralled by the geometric, formal and chromatic range of designs in Native American and Mexican art. As the title of the present work suggests, Albers nods to the traditional houses built of adobe clay, acknowledging the inspiration that he found in native cultures, and elicits the deep, organic terracotta building material in its striking palette. Having produced at least 100 Adobe/Variant works in 1947, Albers subsequently destroyed or painted over many of these, making the present work a still more exceptional painting from this seminal passage of his practice.

Inspired as he was by pre-Columbian and Pueblo Indian architecture and sculpture that he saw on his research trips, to Albers, "Mexico [was] truly the promised land of abstract art. For here it is already thousands of years old" (the artist in: Nicholas Fox Weber and Jessica Boissel, Josef Albers and Wassily Kandinsky: Friends in Exile: A Decade of Correspondence, 1929-1940, Manchester and New York 2010, p. 91). Such was the importance of Albers' relationship to Pre-Columbian art, it formed the thematic imperative behind the major exhibition in 2017, Josef Albers in Mexico at the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in New York, who, alongside The Metropolitan Museum in New York hold comparable works from the same series in their collections. Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) remains one of the earliest and most outstanding examples of Albers' painting from this period that eloquently investigates the phenomenology and psychology of perception as it pertains to light and colour.

A teacher at the Bauhaus between 1923 and 1933 – before moving to Black Mountain College, where Josef and Anni Albers led the arts programme following their departure from Nazi Germany and the closure of the Bauhaus academy in Berlin in April 1933 – Albers was a central figure of the revolutionary school that was at the centre of burgeoning European Modernism in art, architecture and design. Examining the compositional and formal effects of colour and shape, Albers was fascinated by the versatility and fragility of perception, commenting: "every perception of color is an illusion [...] We do not see colors as they really are. In our perception they alter one another. [...] This play of colors, this change in identity, is the object of my concern. It leads me to change my color tool, my palette, from one picture to the next" (the artist in: Eugen Gomringer, Josef Albers, New York 1967, p. 104).

In the present work, Albers draws the spectator's eye by creating the impression of transparency, fastidiously employing ingenious inflections of tone that wonderfully demonstrate the artist's lifelong, pioneering work in the field of colour theory; an effect that he referred to as "photo-illusion". As art historian E.H. Gombrich testifies, "what a painter inquires into is not the nature of the physical world but the nature of our reactions to it [...] conjuring up a convincing image despite the fact that not one individual shade corresponds to what we call 'reality'" (E.H. Gombrich, Art & Illusion: A study in the psychology of pictorial representation, New York 1960, p. 44). Predating his Homage to the Square series, Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) is an early, momentous example of Albers' oeuvre, that encapsulates the dynamic phenomenological shift in abstract painting that was so pivotal for Minimalism and Op art.

A foundational painting from a series that forms the basis for Albers' experimentations with light and composition, Untitled Variant/Adobe (Grey, Black, Red) is a painting from a storied and decisive moment in the artist's life. Fresh to the market, having remained in the same family collection for nearly 50 years, it represents an opportunity to acquire a work of outstanding history and importance.

A resolute autodidact and true polymath, Max Bill's sculpture fläche im raum von einer linie begrenzt (1952-1994), loosely translated as 'surface in space, confined by a line,' is a monumental work that is one of the most outstanding sculptures by Bill to come to market in recent years, demonstrating the Swiss artist's fastidiously technical and enduring vision of art that made him such a broadly influential artist of the Modern age.

With works held in major museum collections that include the Museum of Modern Art, New York, the Art Institute of Chicago and the Centre Pompidou in Paris – as well as his public artworks, such as the Pavillon-Skulptur in Zurich, that have become landmarks in their own right – Bill has recently seen a significant reassessment, coinciding with the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Bauhaus school in Weimar in 1919. Audaciously pure and deceptively simple, the present work is a sterling example of Bill's mathematical approach to art-making; a supremely elegant sculpture that formalises the concept of infinity in an eloquent and harmonious single piece of chrome-nickel steel – a hardened metal that can be presented both indoors and outdoors.

A testament to the artist's perfectionism and attention to detail, he first conceived of fläche im raum von einer linie begrenzt in 1952, when he built a small gilded brass maquette. However, it was not until 1993, when Bill met Karl-Franz Binder of the Binder Metal company, that the artist decided work with industry experts in order to fabricate the sculpture in the material and at the scale that we see in this work. Not an unusual method for Bill, he would often revisit his designs and ideas, only beginning the process of executing his vision once the technicalities of the form had been perfectly resolved to their purest form. "A work of art," Bill wrote, "must be entirely conceived and shaped by the mind before its execution. It shall not receive anything of nature's or sensuality's or sentimentality's formal data" (the artist in: Edwin Heathcote, 'Max Bill — the cult figure who shaped 20th-century design and architecture', Financial Times, June 7, 2019, online).

Seamlessly knotted through a smooth plane of cool, polished steel, the mind-bending feat of manufacturing a multidimensional form that has only one surface area and one edge is achieved in a sculpture of immense and poetic proportions in the present work. Captivated by the Möbius strip – a surface of one continuous side formed by joining the ends of a rectangle twisted through 180° - and the mathematical notion of infinity, Bill's sculptures consistently play host to the abstract wonders of mathematics and geometry, which, when realised in the material, emerge as objects of beautiful, transcendent simplicity.

As an architect, sculptor, designer, painter and teacher, Bill embodied the aspirations of the Bauhaus movement, who collectively sought to synthesise the arts, including graphic design, interiors and typography, into one total work of art. Born in Zürich in 1908, Bill trained as a silversmith before a decisive encounter at the age of 16 with Sophie Taeuber-Arp launched his interest in contemporary art practice. Whilst Bill would go on to be invited to exhibit alongside Hans and Sophie Taeuber-Arp, Piet Mondrian and Georges Vantongerloo as part of the Abstraction-Creation group throughout his mid-twenties, it was his studies at the Bauhaus school in Dessau in 1927, under the pupillage of Josef Albers, Wassily Kandinsky, Paul Klee, Oskar Schlemmer and László Moholy-Nagy – in the midst of an unparalleled generation of influential Modernist creatives that Bill would befriend and work alongside throughout his career – that he truly began to emerge as the multifaceted and superbly gifted artist and designer Bill is recognised as today.

As an artist whose influence has been felt across genres, Max Bill's fläche im raum von einer linie begrenzt is an immaculate demonstration of the artist at his most purely creative and uncompromising. Featuring the smooth metallic curves that call to mind the aerodynamics of an aircraft's fuselage, the wonderful synthesis of science, mathematics and art in the present work is tangible and thrilling. A timeless, large-scale piece that has never been offered for sale or placed on public view, it is a sculptural work that encapsulates and defines the legacy of one of the most important students of the Bauhaus.

Literature

Jonas Wood and Anton Kern, Jonas Wood – New Plants, New York 2010, p. 29, illustrated in colour

“You only need a couple colors and a couple shapes to make something work. Sometimes I push the boundaries of that. It is about how you set up a challenge.”

- Jonas Wood in an interview with Jennifer Samet, 'Beer with a Painter, LA Edition: Jonas Wood', www.hyperallergic.com, 12 September 2005

Jonas Wood has emerged in the last two decades as one of the most highly sought-after and respected contemporary American artists working today. In a painting of exceptional finesse and precision, Untitled (black and gray) illustrates the audacious skill Wood possesses, drawing upon the shapes, lines and colours of his forebears such as Henri Matisse, Alexander Calder and Ellsworth Kelly. His invocation and adaptation of Modernist formalism has drawn him significant esteem, notably awarded with his first major institutional survey at the Dallas Museum of Art, Texas, between March and July 2019.

Suspended over deep matte black, a chorus of shapes in the vein of Calder's mobiles sits firmly atop of a dense plinth of paint. Completely flattened and stripped of realist qualities, Wood's potted plant in Untitled (black and gray) from 2009, teeters on the cusp of pure form, becoming a symphony of shapes that oscillate through warm, dulcet shades of grey. Rendered with acute precision and deliberation, the present work is a visual delight, whose asymmetrical composition holds the painting in a firm equilibrium of weights and shapes.

Combining the aesthetic tools of Cubism and Colour Field Painting with the observed reality of his studio and life as an artist, Wood is able to interrogate the formalities of the object as it is represented, in addition to probing the nature and limits of representational and abstract painterly styles. Living with his wife and fellow artist Shio Kusaka – a ceramicist – Wood and Kusaka allow their respective practices to blend and reciprocate with one another. Drawing inspiration from the formal and aesthetic simplicity innate to their respective crafts, Kusaka's pottery has often been a central subject for Wood's large format paintings of vases and plant pots. In the present work, however, the potted plant is abstracted to the very limit of realism, evolving into a set of symbols and shapes that channel the iconic character of Matisse's cut-outs and the hard-edge painting of Kelly.

Reviving the Modernist canon in his practice, Wood injects a contemporary potency to the paintings that is found in the careful, laboured brushstrokes of its surface and the nuanced shades of his composition. Art critic Roberta Smith notes how "more than ever his works negotiate an uneasy truce among the abstract [and] the representational, [achieving] this with a dour yet lavish palette, tactile but implacably workmanlike surfaces and a subtly perturbed sense of space in which seemingly flattened planes and shapes undergo shifts in tone and angle that continually declare their constructed, considered, carefully wrought artifice" (Roberta Smith, "Jonas Wood," The New York Times, 18 March 2011, p. C31). Constructing his abstracted still lives from an elegant set of grey silhouettes, the artist evokes the sobriety of the classical trope, the memento mori, a theme in painting from the Christian tradition that alluded to the briefness and fragility of life. Painted in their geometrical form, however, Wood's plants do not die or wilt. Instead, a testimony to the currency of abstraction, the colour fields and cut-outs of Untitled (black and gray) remain as constant and significant as they have been for nearly a century.

Collected by public museums that include the Museum of Modern Art, New York, and the Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles, Wood has established broad institutional and critical support. Across a canvas of beautifully chic and demure proportions, Untitled (black and gray) is embedded in a rich network of art-historical associations, and demonstrates Wood's superb talent as a contemporary artist able to contend with the challenge laid down by the great masters of abstract painting.

A testament to the exuberant palette and cool nonchalance of Los Angeles in the mid-1960s, Hollywood Pool and Palm Tree (1965) encapsulates the energy and vision with which David Hockney approached contemporary painting in a setting that saw the artist produce his most significant and iconic works. Set in one of his definitive borders, the strong colours of the present work speak to Hockney's romanticising of his Californian lifestyle; blossoming forth with a palpable vitality and a refined composition that calls to mind the angles of Ed Ruscha's gas stations, the florid shapes of Jean Dubuffet's L'Hourloupe paintings and the Pop palette of Andy Warhol.

Illustrating his hallmark motifs of palm trees, swimming pools and loungers, Hockney's Hollywood has endured as an image of timeless elegance, expressing the allure of Southern California that drew the artist there for the first time in 1964. Enthralled by the colours and radiant sunlight of the region, his Californian swimming pools have become the most sought after and celebrated works by the artist, held in museums all over the world that include the Tate Collection, London, the Art Institute of Chicago and the Museum Ludwig in Cologne. Prototypical of his painterly style that combines an aloof realism informed by Cubist forms and the chic lines of Pop Art, Hollywood Pool and Palm Tree reveals a studied approach to the hotels and homes of the Hollywood neighbourhood, resplendent in the vivacious colours that capture the potent exoticism and eroticism of the West Coast.

Impassioned by Americana, Hockney nonetheless remained a devotee of painting and drawing, absorbed by technical resolutions to best depict his environment and the aesthetic challenges that Modernism had posed to realist painting: "It is a formal problem to represent water," commented Hockney, "it's an interesting one and it's a permanent one [...]. It offered an opportunity for abstraction" (the artist in: Nikos Stangos ed., David Hockney by David Hockney, London 1988, p.100). In this way, the artist's works of the mid-1960s present a revitalised and utterly unique vision of the landscape through the lens of Pop Art; a fresh approach to representing his surroundings in which Hockney combined traditionalist realism with contemporary exuberance.

Undoubtedly, in Hollywood Pool and Palm Tree Hockney positions himself alongside the vanguard painters of his day, sampling the seductiveness of Pop artists like Ruscha and Tom Wesselmann, and inspired by the shapes and patterns of Dubuffet's Hourloupe cycle. This vivid mix of style and setting produces a drawing of eloquent simplicity, integral as his works on paper were to producing the large-format masterworks for which Hockney is so acclaimed. It is in such works as Peter Getting out of Nick's Pool (1966) and A Bigger Splash (1967) – in the Walker Art Gallery, Liverpool, and Tate Collection respectively – that the importance of Hockney's drawings can be appreciated, employing shifting perspectives and brilliant passages of colour.

Exemplifying Hockney's revered works made between 1964 and 1967, Hollywood Pool and Palm Tree is a work that is immediately identifiable as coming from this momentous period in his career. Featuring Hockney's quintessential device of a deep border, the fixtures of the artist's Californian milieu are drawn with typical verve; the artist's versatile draughtsmanship as unmistakable in the crests of the swimming pool's ripples as it is in the pile of the rose-pink carpet.

A work that has been widely exhibited, previously included in a solo exhibition at the Whitechapel Art Gallery, London, in 1970, and the exhibition David Hockney – Travels with Pen, Pencil and Ink that toured globally between 1977 before its final view at the Tate Gallery, London, in 1980, the present work has since remained in the same collection for more than 35 years. In what remains the artist's seminal subject matter, Hollywood Pool and Palm Tree delivers a precise and harmonious vista across a classic Hockney scene, priding the colours and characters of the artist's California period that proclaim his formal investigations and his American dream come to life.

Majestic and monumental, Constant Change from 2005 is an extraordinary sculpture that shimmers and ripples in ribbons of stainless steel, hanging poised in space and appearing to defy laws of gravity and matter. The complexity of the structure is striking and supremely rare in his practice with two columns connected by a delicate parabola. It is the culmination of many years of exploration into the plastic arts and his pioneering use of material. "There is this idea that sculpture is static, or maybe even dead, but I feel absolutely contrary to that," said Cragg in a 2007 interview. "I'm not a religious person—I'm an absolute materialist—and for me material is exciting and ultimately sublime. When I'm involved in making sculpture, I'm looking for a system of belief or ethics in the material. I want that material to have a dynamic, to push and move and grow," (the artist in: Robert Ayers, 'The AI Interview: Tony Cragg.', Art Info, 10 May 2007, online source).

The brilliant shine of the work's surface opens up new possibilities of meaning, distorting the reflection of the world around the sculpture and bringing the luscious contours of the work's 'skin' to life. The seemingly random voluptuousness of the composition is in fact based on the artist's choice of material and is based on the architectural qualities of stainless steel and the mathematical relation between form and structure. His sensitivity to different materials is and has been the starting point for his work. Different materials give different emotional experiences, both for the artist and for the viewer. Tony Cragg himself has noted that the word material derives from the Latin word mater, meaning mother. Like a mother, the material gives birth to the thought; the different properties of a material give rise to the idea, which produces the form.

His later works known as Rational Beings, of which the present lot is perhaps the crowning example, develop this interest into a series of articulated columns, no longer concerned with the organic, but with the dynamic. In these works, profiles emerge and disappear from their surfaces and thereby push towards a new abstracted understanding of the human, or meta-human figure. In the later part of his career he has been confronting notions of compression and expansion in his works where recognisable forms such as facial profiles, although distorted, become apparent. These works have an almost futuristic element to them, reminiscent of technology synonymous with 3D printing or engineering more familiar at NASA.

The reflections within the column's surface introduce an important dialogue between the sculpture and the space it occupies. Commissioned for the present owner, Constant Change is not complete until it is installed, a key part of its composition being the images and changing light reflected on its smooth surface. While many of Cragg's contemporaries rely on the same reflective qualities for their own sculptures, the alternating recessions and projections of Cragg's globular, organic shapes create an even more varied surface that intentionally distorts its surroundings. While an industrial material, the steel takes on an almost liquefied trait that reads more like rippled water or flowing mercury than a static object or a conventional bronze.

Sir Tony Cragg has been one of the world's foremost sculptors for more than three decades, bursting to prominence in 1988, the year in which he won both the Turner Prize and was selected to represent the UK at the Venice Biennale. Not only has his work helped to define the plastic arts in museums and within the art market for the past quarter century, his profound engagement with sculpture has served to influence subsequent generations of artists as a result of his roles as Professor at Ecole Nationale Supérieure des Beaux Arts, Paris, France (1999-2009) and Professor at Kunstakademie, Dusseldorf, Germany (2009 to present). He has shown in many of the world's most prestigious and important museums and his works are in many of the world's major collections including the Tate London, MoMA New York, the Centre Georges Pompidou, Paris and many more. Constant Change is arguably the most important work by the artist ever to appear at auction, certainly the largest and most dramatic, and it shows this giant of sculpture, this pioneer, at the height of his significant powers.

“Imagine a city where graffiti wasn’t illegal, a city where everybody could draw whatever they liked. Where every street was awash with a million colours and little phrases. Where standing at a bus stop was never boring. A city that felt like a party where everyone was invited, not just the estate agents and barons of big businesses. Imagine a city like that and stop leaning against the wall – it’s wet.”

- Banksy cited in: Paul Gough, Banksy: The Bristol Legacy, Bristol 2010, p. 9.

Set against a stark white background, a tense police officer has drawn his baton. He looks beyond confines of the board, but it is instantly apparent what, or better who, he is looking for. ‘Fuck the police’ is written in crude red letters on the wall behind him. The officer is too late, the message is clear, and the culprit seems to have escaped, leaving his mocking anti-authoritarian slogan for everyone to see.

Graffiti Art has long been the leading means of expression for the visual counterculture. The irrepressible spontaneity of protest art and then early street art was mirrored in the music of Hip-Hop and dynamism of breakdance. These three pillars dominated much of urban culture in America from the 1970s and had a keen influence on Banksy as it came to impact corresponding areas in Britain in the 1980s. NWA’s seminal album Straight Outta Compton (1988) featuring the coruscating single Fuck Da Police had a clear effect on the artist and spoke to the sense of rage and disenfranchisement of that urban generation which found a creative outlet for the artist in art as a means of expression.

Born in Bristol in 1975, Banksy turned to graffiti as a teenager. Inspired by the thriving graffiti community of his hometown, his works first executed freehand and later with the use of his now signature cardboard stencils, started showing up locally on walls and trains in 1993. By 2005 they had cropped up all over Britain, even within the galleries of some of England’s most prominent museums. Today Banksy has, more than any other artist in his field, garnered international acclaim for his whimsical, satirical, anti-establishment style of street art and his works are fiercely sought after by collectors.

Untitled (Fuck the Police) from 2000 is a striking, early example of what was to become one of Banksy’s most iconic motifs. Banksy’s relationship with law enforcement is understandably difficult and the theme spreads throughout his career, most famously in 2005 with The Kissing Coppers on the wall of the Prince Albert Pub in Brighton and the Snorting Copper in London’s East End. Like many of the artist’s best works Untitled (Fuck the Police)’s success lies in its stark simplicity, rendered in black and red against the white board, the image possesses a visual immediacy and clean aesthetic that is key to its popularity.

Interestingly, an early encounter with the police when he was 18 is part of the reason Banksy started using stencils. One night when he was hiding from the police, Banksy noticed the stencilled plate on the bottom of the fuel tank and realized that the use of stencils could cut his painting time in half and minimize the risk of getting caught. But there was more to it than just the time element. “As soon as I cut my first stencil I could feel the power there. I also like the political edge. All graffiti is low-level dissent, but stencils have an extra history. They’ve been used to start revolutions and to stop wars.” (the artist in: Tristan Manco, Stencil Graffiti, London 2002, p. 76).

Banksy is perhaps the most important artist to emerge in Britain since the turn of the millennium and this urgent, signature work can be seen as a pure example of the artist at his very best.

A powerful installation by El Anatsui

Lot 32

With its exquisite attention to detail and remarkable craftsmanship, El Anatsui's Wastepaper Basket (2003) is a rare sculpture from a very limited series by an artist of truly global appeal. The Ghanaian-born Anatsui has become a figurehead for the international, post-colonial discourse on contemporary art in the Twenty-First century, with works held in such distinguished institutions as the Centre Pompidou, Paris, the Tate collection, London, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Guggenheim Abu Dhabi and the Osaka Foundation for Culture in Japan.

Making metallic elements appear supple and fabric-like, Anatsui has produced a work of captivating intricacy and theatre with a materiality that is so characteristic of the tapestries that the artist has created for large-scale public commissions. Stitching together sheet metal printed with the handwriting, margins and layouts of letters, documents and newspapers, Wastepaper Basket is a characterful work that inverts the scale and substance of its motif. Poetically accumulated and dispersed in the space around the body of the work, it stands as a universal symbol of discarded thoughts, paperwork and plans, assembled and bound into a hard metallic shell whose ripples and folds beautifully evoke the fragility of paper, or the overlapping joints of a suit of armour.

Combining traditional African techniques with the themes and aesthetics of the Western canon, Anatsui has stood at the forefront of a global genre of art that has transcended history and culture. Evoking the burnished surfaces of Byzantine mosaics and the freestanding aura of an archaic totem, the present work entertains a monumentality that is suffused with the rawness of its material.

Born in Ghana in 1944, Anatsui has enjoyed a multitude of groundbreaking exhibitions and awards over the course of his career that have assured his value as an international phenomenon. From his critically lauded inclusion in the 52nd Venice Biennale in 2007 to his receipt of the Golden Lion for lifetime achievement at the 56th edition in 2015 he has been that rare figure who unites audiences, critics and collectors alike. Furthermore, his tapestry Tsiatsia – Searching for Connection was famously draped over the façade of the Royal Academy of Art in London for the institution's Summer Exhibition in 2013, a unique honour which led to Anatsui being subsequently elected to the post of an honorary Royal Academician. He has seen a meteoric rise of global importance in recent years, establishing himself as a culturally significant and historically pivotal artist, not only in Europe and America, but notably in Asia where he was awarded the highest artistic honour in Japan, the Praemium Imperiale Award for Sculpture, in 2017.

This work, presented around the world in the artist's solo exhibition Gawu – touring the U.K. and the U.S.A. between 2003 and 2008, before closing at the Smithsonian National Museum of African Art, Washington D.C. – Wastepaper Basket wonderfully abbreviates the tenets of Anatsui's practice, using found materials to construct a sculpture whose very fabric is the fragments and detritus of life in Nigeria, where the artist's studio is located. Having previously used wood, railway sleepers, bottle tops, iron nails and printing plates as his media, the present work, handmade in aluminium and bound in copper wire, is a poetic object that poses a tension between the work of art and the detritus of the everyday.

In a piece that playfully toys with the seriousness of art-making yet speaks to the process of ideas blossoming and fading, the present work holds an air of astute poignancy about the rigours of being an artist. Wastepaper Basket stands as a work of sublime sculpture, elevating the banal and overlooked to the heights of the art object, as the artist has done throughout his career with bottle caps and tins alike. Constructed out of hundreds of pieces of sculpture in their own right, each individual fragment of aluminium crafted and shaped with a specific purpose, Anatsui has constructed a totemic monolith that is a drama of objects and surfaces when viewed up close, and represents an outstanding work by one of the leading figures of Twenty-First Century Art.

NATIONAL SATURDAY CLUB

The idea for the National Saturday Club came from the experiences that we both had attending free Saturday classes at our local art schools, when we were 14 years old in the 1960s. They changed our lives.

We worked on the idea that the original Saturday classes model could be reinvented to create Saturday Clubs that are relevant today. We prototyped an Art&Design Saturday Club at four UK colleges with 100 13–16 year olds in 2009. The model worked and has since been developed for other subject areas – Science&Engineering, Fashion&Business and Writing&Talking.

The National Saturday Club partners with universities, colleges and cultural institutions across the UK, which run free local Saturday Clubs during the academic year. These host institutions provide specialist facilities and their tutors create and lead individual programmes. These are designed to help 13–16 year olds strengthen their skills and knowledge in their chosen Club subjects, and grow in confidence. Twice a year, the National Saturday Club brings everyone in the network together for shared events – the London Visit and Summer Show – and also organises Masterclasses for each Saturday Club, which provide Club members with a vital link to the professional world.

By making all Saturday Clubs free and with no exams, the barriers to attending are reduced and young people from all backgrounds are encouraged to get involved. In the academic year 2018-2019, 63 per cent of Club members were from widening participation backgrounds.

The Saturday Club Trust is a charity and we rely on the financial support of those who believe in creative education for young people, and the empowering role that creativity plays in inspiring the next generation. Now more than ever, the vital role of the National Saturday Club, to deliver a free creative learning programme nationwide, cannot be underestimated. Over the next few years, we plan to grow the Saturday Club network, to reach even more young people from diverse backgrounds so that every 13–16 year old in the country has the chance to take part in the programme.

We are thankful for the ongoing support of Arts Council England, the Department for Education, the Paul Hamlyn Foundation and the British Fashion Council, alongside the other generous individuals and companies who support us. We are also tremendously grateful to Ralph Taylor and his team at Bonhams, for their support of the National Saturday Club and for providing this unique opportunity. And of course, our sincere thanks to all the artists who have so generously donated works to this auction. The funds raised will enable many more young people to discover their talents and raise their aspirations at their local Saturday Club.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

This notice is addressed by Bonhams to any person who may be interested in a Lot, and to all persons participating in the auction process including auction attendees, Bidders and potential Bidders (including any eventual Buyer of the Lot). For ease of reference we refer to such persons as "Bidders" or "you". Our List of Definitions and Glossary is incorporated into this Notice to Bidders. It is at Appendix 3 at the back of the Catalogue. Where words and phrases are used in this notice which are in the List of Definitions, they are printed in italics.

IMPORTANT: Additional information applicable to the Sale may be set out in the Catalogue for the Sale, in an insert in the Catalogue and/or in a notice displayed at the Sale venue and you should read them as well. Announcements affecting the Sale may also be given out orally before and during the Sale without prior written notice. You should be alert to the possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

1. OUR ROLE

In its role as Auctioneer of Lots, Bonhams acts solely for and in the interests of the Seller. Bonhams' job is to sell the Lot at the highest price obtainable at the Sale to a Bidder. Bonhams does not act for Buyers or Bidders in this role and does not give advice to Buyers or Bidders. When it or its staff make statements about a Lot or, if Bonhams provides a Condition Report on a Lot it is doing that on behalf of the Seller of the Lot. Bidders and Buyers who are themselves not expert in the Lots are strongly advised to seek and obtain independent advice on the Lots and their value before bidding for them. The Seller has authorised Bonhams to sell the Lot as its agent on its behalf and, save where we expressly make it clear to the contrary, Bonhams acts only as agent for the Seller. Any statement or representation we make in respect of a Lot is made on the Seller's behalf and, unless Bonhams sells a Lot as principal, not on our behalf and any Contract for Sale is between the Buyer and the Seller and not with us. If Bonhams sells a Lot as principal this will either be stated in the Catalogue or an announcement to that effect will be made by the Auctioneer, or it will be stated in a notice at the Sale or an insert in the Catalogue.

Bonhams does not owe or undertake or agree to any duty or responsibility to you in contract or tort (whether direct, collateral, express, implied or otherwise). If you successfully bid for a Lot and buy it, at that stage Bonhams does enter into an agreement with you as the Buyer. The terms of that contract are set out in our Buyer's Agreement, which you will find at Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue, and this will govern Bonhams' relationship with the Buyer.

2. LOTS

Subject to the Contractual Description printed in bold letters in the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue (see paragraph 3 below), Lots are sold to the Buyer on an "as is" basis, with all faults and imperfections. Illustrations and photographs contained in the Catalogue (other than photographs forming part of the Contractual Description) or elsewhere of any Lots are for identification purposes only. A photograph or illustration may not reflect an accurate reproduction of the colour(s) or true condition of the Lot. Lots are available for inspection prior to the Sale and it is for you to satisfy yourself as to each and every aspect of a Lot, including its authorship, attribution, condition, provenance, history, background, authenticity, style, period, age, suitability, quality, roadworthiness (if relevant), origin, value and estimated selling price (including the Hammer Price). It is your responsibility to examine any Lot in which you are interested. It should be remembered that the actual condition of a Lot may not be as good as that indicated by its outward appearance. In particular, parts may have been replaced or renewed and Lots may not be authentic or of satisfactory quality; the inside of a Lot may not be visible and may not be original or may be damaged, as for example where it is covered by upholstery or material. Given the age of many Lots they may have been damaged and/or repaired and you should not assume that a Lot is in good condition. Electronic or mechanical items or parts are sold for their artistic, historic or cultural interest and may not operate or may not comply with current statutory requirements. You should not assume that electrical items designed to operate on mains electricity will be suitable for connection to the mains electricity supply and you should obtain a report from a qualified electrician on their status before doing so. Such items which are unsuitable for connection are sold as items of interest for display purposes only. If you yourself do not have expertise regarding a Lot, you should consult someone who does to advise you. We can assist in arranging facilities for you to carry out or have carried out more detailed inspections and tests. Please ask our staff for details.

Any person who damages a Lot will be held liable for the loss caused.

3. DESCRIPTIONS OF LOTS AND ESTIMATES

Contractual Description of a Lot

The Catalogue contains an Entry about each Lot. Each Lot is sold by its respective Seller to the Buyer of the Lot as corresponding only with that part of the Entry which is printed in bold letters and (except for the colour, which may be inaccurately reproduced) with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue. The remainder of the Entry, which is not printed in bold letters, represents Bonhams' opinion (given on behalf of the Seller) about the Lot only and is not part of the Contractual Description in accordance with which the Lot is sold by the Seller.

Estimates

In most cases, an Estimate is printed beside the Entry. Estimates are only an expression of Bonhams' opinion made on behalf of the Seller of the range where Bonhams thinks the Hammer Price for the Lot is likely to fall; it is not an Estimate of value. It does not take into account any VAT or Buyer's Premium payable or any other fees payable by the Buyer, which are detailed in paragraph 7 of the Notice to Bidders, below. Prices depend upon bidding and lots can sell for Hammer Prices below and above the Estimates, so Estimates should not be relied on as an indication of the actual selling price or value of a Lot. Estimates are in the currency of the Sale.

Condition Reports

In respect of most Lots, you may ask Bonhams for a Condition Report on the Lot's general physical condition. If you do so, this will be provided by Bonhams on behalf of the Seller free of charge. As this is offered additionally and without charge, Bonhams is not entering into a contract with you in respect of the Condition Report and accordingly does not assume responsibility to you in respect of it. The Condition Report represents Bonhams' reasonable opinion as to the Lot's general condition in the terms stated in the particular report, and Bonhams does not represent or guarantee that a Condition Report includes all aspects of the internal or external condition of the Lot. Neither does the Seller owe or agree to owe you as a Bidder or Buyer any obligation or duty in respect of this free report about a Lot, which is available for your own inspection or for inspection by an expert instructed by you.

The Seller's responsibility to you

The Seller does not make or agree to make any representation of fact or contractual promise, Guarantee or warranty and undertakes no obligation or duty, whether in contract or in tort (other than to the eventual Buyer as set out above), in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by him or on his behalf, which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. Other than as set out above, no statement or representation in any way descriptive of a Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into any Contract for Sale between a Seller and a Buyer.

Bonhams' responsibility to you

You have the opportunity of examining the Lot if you want to and the Contract for Sale for a Lot is with the Seller and not with Bonhams; Bonhams acts as the Seller's agent only (unless Bonhams sells the Lot as principal).

Bonhams undertakes no obligation to you to examine, investigate or carry out any tests, either in sufficient depth or at all, on each Lot to establish the accuracy or otherwise of any Descriptions or opinions given by Bonhams, or by any person on Bonhams' behalf, whether in the Catalogue or elsewhere.

You should not suppose that such examinations, investigations or tests have occurred.

Bonhams does not make or agree to make any representation of fact, and undertakes no obligation or duty (whether in contract or tort) in respect of the accuracy or completeness of any statement or representation made by Bonhams or on Bonhams' behalf which is in any way descriptive of any Lot or as to the anticipated or likely selling price of any Lot. No statement or representation by Bonhams or on its behalf in any way descriptive of any Lot or any Estimate is incorporated into our Buyer's Agreement.

Alterations

Descriptions and Estimates may be amended at Bonhams' discretion from time to time by notice given orally or in writing before or during a Sale.

THE LOT IS AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION AND YOU MUST FORM YOUR OWN OPINION IN RELATION TO IT. YOU ARE STRONGLY ADVISED TO EXAMINE ANY LOT OR HAVE IT EXAMINED ON YOUR BEHALF BEFORE THE SALE.

4. CONDUCT OF THE SALE

Our Sales are public auctions which persons may attend and you should take the opportunity to do so. We reserve the right at our sole discretion to refuse admission to our premises or to any Sale and to remove any person from our premises and Sales, without stating a reason. We have complete discretion as to whether the Sale proceeds, whether any Lot is included in the Sale, the manner in which the Sale is conducted and we may offer Lots for Sale in any order we choose notwithstanding the numbers given to Lots in the Catalogue. You should therefore check the date and starting time of the Sale, whether there have been any withdrawals or late entries. Remember that withdrawals and late entries may affect the time at which a Lot you are interested is put up for Sale. We have complete discretion in which to refuse any bid, to nominate any bidding increment we consider appropriate, to divide any Lot, to combine two or more Lots, to withdraw any Lot from a Sale and, before the Sale has been closed, to put up any Lot for auction again. Auction speeds can exceed 100 Lots to the hour and bidding increments are generally about 10%; however, these do vary from Sale to Sale and from Auctioneer to Auctioneer. Please check with the department organising the Sale for advice on this. Where a Reserve has been applied to a Lot, the Auctioneer may, in his absolute discretion, place bids (up to an amount not equaling or exceeding such Reserve) on behalf of the Seller. We are not responsible to you in respect of the presence or absence of any Reserve in respect of any Lot. If there is a Reserve it will be no higher than the lower figure for any Estimate in the Catalogue, assuming that the currency of the Reserve has not fluctuated adversely against the currency of the Estimate. The Buyer will be the Bidder who makes the highest bid acceptable to the Auctioneer for any Lot (subject to any applicable Reserve) to whom the Lot is knocked down by the Auctioneer at the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer. Any dispute as to the highest acceptable bid will be settled by the Auctioneer in his absolute discretion. All bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. An electronic currency converter may be used at the Sale. This equipment is provided as a general guide as to the equivalent amount in certain currencies of a given bid. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the currency converter. We may use video cameras to record the Sale and may record telephone calls for reasons of security and to assist in solving any disputes which may arise in relation to bids made at the Sale. At some Sales, for example, jewellery Sales, we may use screens on which images of the Lots will be projected. This service is provided to assist viewing at the Sale. The image on the screen should be treated as an indication only of the current Lot. It should be noted that all bids tendered will relate to the actual Lot number announced by the Auctioneer. We do not accept any responsibility for any errors which may occur in the use of the screen.

5. BIDDING

You must complete and deliver to us one of our Bidding Forms, either our Bidder Registration Form, Absentee Bidding Form or Telephone Bidding Form in order to bid at our Sales.

If you are a new client at Bonhams or have not recently updated your registration details with us, you must pre-register to bid at least two working days before the Sale at which you wish to bid. You will be required to provide government-issued proof of identity and residence, and if you are a company, your certificate of incorporation or equivalent documentation with your name and registered address, government issued proof of your current address, documentary proof of your beneficial owners and directors, and proof of authority to transact.

We may also request a financial reference and /or deposit from you before allowing you to bid.

We reserve the rights at our discretion to request further information in order to complete our client identification and to decline to register any person as a Bidder, and to decline to accept their bids if they have been so registered. We also reserve the rights to postpone completion of the Sale of any Lot at our discretion while we complete our registration and identification enquiries, and to cancel the Sale of any Lot if you are in breach of your warranties as Buyer, or if we consider that such Sale would be unlawful or otherwise cause liabilities for the Seller or Bonhams or be detrimental to Bonhams' reputation.

Bidding in person

So long as you have pre-registered to bid or have updated your existing registration recently, you should come to our Bidder registration desk at the Sale venue and fill out a Registration and Bidding Form on (or, if possible, before) the day of the Sale. The bidding number system is sometimes referred to as "paddle bidding". You will be issued with a large card (a "paddle") with a printed number on it. This will be attributed to you for the purposes of the Sale. Should you be a successful Bidder you will need to ensure that your number can be clearly seen by the Auctioneer and that it is your number which is identified as the Buyer's. You should not let anyone else use your paddle as all Lots will be invoiced to the name and address given on your Bidder Registration Form. Once an invoice is issued it will not be changed. If there is any doubt as to the Hammer Price of, or whether you are the successful Bidder of, a particular Lot, you must draw this to the attention of the Auctioneer before the next Lot is offered for Sale. At the end of the Sale, or when you have finished bidding please return your paddle to the Bidder registration desk.

Bidding by telephone

If you wish to bid at the Sale by telephone, and have pre-registered to bid or have updated your existing registration details recently, please complete a Registration and Bidding Form, which is available from our offices or in the Catalogue. Please then return it to the office responsible for the Sale at least 24 hours in advance of the Sale. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. Telephone calls will be recorded. The telephone bidding facility is a discretionary service offered at no additional charge and may not be available in relation to all Lots. We will not be responsible for bidding on your behalf if you are unavailable at the time of the Sale or if the telephone connection is interrupted during bidding. Please contact us for further details.

Bidding by post or fax

Absentee Bidding Forms can be found in the back of this Catalogue and should be completed and sent to the office responsible for the Sale, once you have pre-registered to bid or have updated your existing registration details recently. It is in your interests to return your form as soon as possible, as if two or more Bidders submit identical bids for a Lot, the first bid received takes preference. In any event, all bids should be received at least 24 hours before the start of the Sale. Please check your Absentee Bidding Form carefully before returning it to us, fully completed and signed by you. It is your responsibility to check with our Bids Office that your bid has been received. This additional service is complimentary and is confidential. Such bids are made at your own risk and we cannot accept liability for our failure to receive and/or place any such bids. All bids made on your behalf will be made at the lowest level possible subject to Reserves and other bids made for the Lot. Where appropriate your bids will be rounded down to the nearest amount consistent with the Auctioneer's bidding increments. New Bidders must also provide proof of identity and address when submitting bids. Failure to do this will result in your bid not being placed.

Bidding via the internet

Please visit our Website at <http://www.bonhams.com> for details of how to bid via the internet.

Bonhams will not be liable for service delays, interruptions or other failures to make a bid caused by losses of internet connection, fault or failure with the website or bidding process, or malfunction of any software or system, computer or mobile device.

Bidding through an agent

Bids will be treated as placed exclusively by and on behalf of the person named on the Bidding Form unless otherwise agreed by us in writing in advance of the Sale. If you wish to bid on behalf of another person (your principal) you must complete the pre-registration requirements set out above both on your own behalf and with full details of your principal, and we will require written confirmation from the principal confirming your authority to bid.

You are specifically referred to your due diligence requirements concerning your principal and their source of funds, and the warranties you give in the event you are the Buyer, which are contained in paragraph 3 of the Buyer's Agreement, set out at Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue.

Nevertheless, as the Bidding Form explains, any person placing a bid as agent on behalf of another (whether or not he has disclosed that fact) will be jointly and severally liable with the principal to the Seller and to Bonhams under any contract resulting from the acceptance of a bid.

Equally, please let us know if you intend to nominate another person to bid on your behalf at the Sale unless this is to be carried out by us pursuant to a Telephone or Absentee Bidding Form that you have completed. If we do not approve the agency arrangements in writing before the Sale, we are entitled to assume that the person bidding at the Sale is bidding on his own behalf. Accordingly, the person bidding at the Sale will be the Buyer and will be liable to pay the Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium and associated charges. If we approve the identity of your client in advance, we will be in a position to address the invoice to your principal rather than you. We will require proof of the agent's client's identity and residence in advance of any bids made by the agent on his behalf. Please refer to our Conditions of Business and contact our Customer Services Department for further details.

6. CONTRACTS BETWEEN THE BUYER AND SELLER AND THE BUYER AND BONHAMS

On the Lot being knocked down to the Buyer, a Contract for Sale of the Lot will be entered into between the Seller and the Buyer on the terms of the Contract for Sale set out in Appendix 1 at the back of the Catalogue. You will be liable to pay the Purchase Price, which is the Hammer Price plus any applicable VAT. At the same time, a separate contract is also entered into between us as Auctioneers and the Buyer. This is our Buyer's Agreement, the terms of which are set out in Appendix 2 at the back of the Catalogue. Please read the terms of the Contract for Sale and our Buyer's Agreement contained in the Catalogue in case you are the successful Bidder including the warranties as to your status and source of funds. We may change the terms of either or both of these agreements in advance of their being entered into, by setting out different terms in the Catalogue and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale. It is your responsibility to ensure you are aware of the up to date terms of the Buyer's Agreement for this Sale.

7. BUYER'S PREMIUM AND OTHER CHARGES PAYABLE BY THE BUYER

Under the Buyer's Agreement, a premium (the Buyer's Premium) is payable to us by the Buyer in accordance with the terms of the Buyer's Agreement and at rates set out below, calculated by reference to the Hammer Price and payable in addition to it.

For this Sale the following rates of Buyer's Premium will be payable by Buyers on each Lot purchased:

27.5% up to £2,500 of the Hammer Price
25% of the Hammer Price above £2,500 and up to £300,000
20% of the Hammer Price above £300,000 and up to £3,000,000
13.9% of the Hammer Price above £3,000,000

Storage and handling charges may also be payable by the Buyer as detailed on the specific Sale Information page at the front of the catalogue.

The Buyer's Premium and all other charges payable to us by the Buyer are subject to VAT at the prevailing rate, currently 20%.

VAT may also be payable on the Hammer Price of the Lot, where indicated by a symbol beside the Lot number. See paragraph 8 below for details.

On certain Lots, which will be marked "AR" in the Catalogue and which are sold for a Hammer Price of €1,000 or greater (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale), the Additional Premium will be payable to us by the Buyer to cover our Expenses relating to the payment of royalties under the Artists Resale Right Regulations 2006. The Additional Premium will be a percentage of the amount of the Hammer Price calculated in accordance with the table below, and shall not exceed €12,500 (converted into the currency of the Sale using the European Central Bank Reference rate prevailing on the date of the Sale).

Hammer Price	Percentage amount
From €0 to €50,000	4%
From €50,000.01 to €200,000	3%
From €200,000.01 to €350,000	1%
From €350,000.01 to €500,000	0.5%
Exceeding €500,000	0.25%

8. VAT

The prevailing rate of VAT at the time of going to press is 20%, but this is subject to government change and the rate payable will be the rate in force on the date of the Sale.

The following symbols, shown beside the Lot number, are used to denote that VAT is due on the Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium:

- † VAT at the prevailing rate on Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium
- Ω VAT on imported items at the prevailing rate on Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium
- * VAT on imported items at a preferential rate of 5% on Hammer Price and the prevailing rate on Buyer's Premium
- G Gold bullion exempt from VAT on the Hammer Price and subject to VAT at the prevailing rate on the Buyer's Premium
- Zero rated for VAT, no VAT will be added to the Hammer Price or the Buyer's Premium
- α Buyers from within the EU: VAT is payable at the prevailing rate on just the Buyer's Premium (NOT the Hammer Price). Buyers from outside the EU: VAT is payable at the prevailing rate on both Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium. If a Buyer, having registered under a non-EU address, decides that the item is not to be exported from the EU, then he should advise Bonhams immediately.

In all other instances no VAT will be charged on the Hammer Price, but VAT at the prevailing rate will be added to Buyer's Premium which will be invoiced on a VAT inclusive basis.

9. PAYMENT

It is of critical importance that you ensure that you have readily available funds to pay the Purchase Price and the Buyer's Premium (plus VAT and any other charges and Expenses to us) in full before making a bid for the Lot. If you are a successful Bidder, payment will be due to us by 4.30 pm on the second working day after the Sale so that all sums are cleared by the eighth working day after the Sale. Payments made by anyone other than the registered Buyer will not be accepted. Bonhams reserves the right to vary the terms of payment at any time.

Bonhams' preferred payment method is by bank transfer.

You may electronically transfer funds to our Account. If you do so, please quote your paddle number and invoice number as the reference. Our Account details are as follows:

If the amount payable by you for Lots exceeds that sum, the balance must be paid otherwise than in coins or notes; this limit applies to both payment at our premises and direct deposit into our bank account.

It may be advisable to notify your debit or credit card provider of your intended purchase in advance to reduce delays caused by us having to seek authority when you come to pay.

Note: only one debit or credit card may be used for payment of an account balance. If you have any questions with regards to card payments, please contact our Customer Services Department.

We reserve the rights to investigate and identify the source of any funds received by us, to postpone completion of the sale of any Lot at our discretion while we complete our investigations, and to cancel the Sale of any Lot if you are in breach of your warranties as Buyer, if we consider that such Sale would be unlawful or otherwise cause liabilities for the Seller or Bonhams, or would be detrimental to Bonhams' reputation.

10. COLLECTION AND STORAGE

The Buyer of a Lot will not be allowed to collect it until payment in full and in cleared funds has been made (unless we have made a special arrangement with the Buyer). For collection and removal of purchased Lots, please refer to Sale Information at the front of the Catalogue. Our offices are open 9.00am – 5pm Monday to Friday. Details relating to the collection of a Lot, the storage of a Lot and our Storage Contractor after the Sale are set out in the Catalogue.

11. SHIPPING

For information and estimates on domestic and international shipping as well as export licenses please contact Alban Shipping on +44 (0) 1582 493 099 enquiries@albanshipping.co.uk

12. EXPORT/TRADE RESTRICTIONS

It is your sole responsibility to comply with all export and import regulations relating to your purchases and also to obtain any relevant export and/or import licence(s). Export licences are issued by Arts Council England and application forms can be obtained from its Export Licensing Unit. The detailed provisions of the export licensing arrangements can be found on the ACE website <http://www.artscouncil.org.uk/what-we-do/supporting-museums/cultural-property/export-controls/export-licensing/> or by phoning ACE on +44 (0)20 7973 5188. The need for import licences varies from country to country and you should acquaint yourself with all relevant local requirements and provisions. The refusal of any import or export licence(s) or any delay in obtaining such licence(s) shall not permit the rescission of any Sale nor allow any delay in making full payment for the Lot. Generally, please contact our shipping department before the Sale if you require assistance in relation to export regulations.

13. CITES REGULATIONS

Please be aware that all Lots marked with the symbol Y are subject to CITES regulations when exporting these items outside the EU. These regulations may be found at <http://www.defra.gov.uk/ahvla-en/imports-exports/cites/> or may be requested from:

Animal Health and Veterinary Laboratories Agency (AHVLA)
Wildlife Licensing
Floor 1, Zone 17, Temple Quay House
2 The Square, Temple Quay
BRISTOL BS1 6EB
Tel: +44 (0) 117 372 8774

The refusal of any CITES licence or permit and any delay in obtaining such licences or permits shall not give rise to the rescission or cancellation of any Sale, nor allow any delay in making full payment for the Lot.

14. THE SELLERS AND/OR BONHAMS' LIABILITY

Other than any liability of the Seller to the Buyer of a Lot under the Contract for Sale, neither we nor the Seller are liable (whether in negligence or otherwise) for any error or misdescription or omission in any Description of a Lot or any Estimate in respect of it, whether contained in the Catalogue or otherwise, whether given orally or in writing and whether given before or during the Sale. Neither we nor the Seller will be liable for any loss of Business, profits, revenue or income, or for loss of reputation, or for disruption to Business or wasted time on the part of management or staff, or for indirect losses or consequential damages of any kind, irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of the loss or damage alleged to be suffered, and irrespective of whether the said loss or damage is caused by or claimed in respect of any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty, restitutionary claim or otherwise. In any circumstances where we and/or the Seller are liable in relation to any Lot or any Description or Estimate made of any Lot, or the conduct of any Sale in relation to any Lot, whether in damages, for an indemnity or contribution, or for a restitutionary remedy or otherwise, our and/or the Seller's liability (combined, if both we and the Seller are liable) will be limited to payment of a sum which will not exceed by way of maximum the amount of the Purchase Price of the Lot irrespective in any case of the nature, volume or source of any loss or damage alleged to be suffered or sum claimed as due, and irrespective of whether the liability arises from any negligence, other tort, breach of contract (if any) or statutory duty or otherwise. Nothing set out above will be construed as excluding or restricting (whether directly or indirectly) our liability or excluding or restricting any person's rights or remedies in respect of (i) fraud, or (ii) death or personal injury caused by our negligence (or by the negligence of any person under our control or for whom we are legally responsible), or (iii) acts or omissions for which we are liable under the Occupiers Liability Act 1957, or (iv) any other liability to the extent the same may not be excluded or restricted as a matter of law or (v) our undertakings under paragraphs 9 (in relation to specialist Stamp or Book Sales only) and 10 of the Buyer's Agreement. The same applies in respect of the Seller, as if references to us in this paragraph were substituted with references to the Seller.

15. BOOKS

As stated above, all Lots are sold on an "as is" basis, subject to all faults, imperfections and errors of Description save as set out below. However, you will be entitled to reject a Book in the circumstances set out in paragraph 11 of the Buyers Agreement. Please note that Lots comprising printed Books, unframed maps and bound manuscripts are not liable to VAT on the Buyer's Premium.

16. CLOCKS AND WATCHES

All Lots are sold "as is", and the absence of any reference to the condition of a clock or watch does not imply that the Lot is in good condition and without defects, repairs or restorations. Most clocks and watches have been repaired in the course of their normal lifetime and may now incorporate parts not original to them. Furthermore, Bonhams makes no representation or warranty that any clock or watch is in working order. As clocks and watches often contain fine and complex mechanisms, Bidders should be aware that a general service, change of battery or further repair work, for which the Buyer is solely responsible, may be necessary. Bidders should be aware that the importation of watches such as Rolex, Frank Muller and Corum into the United States is highly restricted. These watches may not be shipped to the USA and can only be imported personally.

17. FIREARMS – PROOF, CONDITION AND CERTIFICATION

Proof of Firearms

The term "proof exemption" indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House, but not proved, as either (a) it was deemed of interest and not intended for use, or (b) ammunition was not available. In either case, the firearm must be regarded as unsafe to fire unless subsequently proved. Firearms proved for Black Powder should not be used with smokeless ammunition.

The term "Certificate of Unprovability" indicates that a firearm has been examined at a Proof House and is deemed both unsuitable for proof and use. Reproof is required before any such firearm is to be used.

Guns Sold as Parts

Barrels of guns sold as parts will only be made available for sleeving and measurements once rendered unserviceable according to the Gun Barrel Proof Act of 1968 to 1978 and the Rules of Proof.

Condition of Firearms

Comment in this Catalogue is restricted, in general, to exceptional condition and to those defects that might affect the immediate safety of a firearm in normal use. An intending Bidder unable to make technical examinations and assessments is recommended to seek advice from a gunmaker or from a modern firearms specialist. All prospective Bidders are advised to consult the "of bore and wall-thickness measurements posted in the saleroom and available from the department. Bidders should note that guns are stripped only where there is a strong indication of a mechanical malfunction. Stripping is not, otherwise, undertaken. Guns intended for use should be stripped and cleaned beforehand. Hammer guns should have their rebound mechanisms checked before use. The safety mechanisms of all guns must be tested before use. All measurements are approximate.

Original Gun Specifications Derived from Gunmakers

The Sporting Gun Department endeavours to confirm a gun's original specification and date of manufacture with makers who hold their original records.

Licensing Requirements

Firearms Act 1968 as amended

Bonhams is constantly reviewing its procedures and would remind you that, in the case of firearms or shotguns subject to certification, to conform with current legislation, Bonhams is required to see, as appropriate, your original registered firearms dealer's certificate / shot gun certificate / firearm certificate / museum firearms licence / Section 5 authority or import licence (or details of any exemption from which you may benefit, for instance Crown servant status) for the firearm(s) you have purchased prior to taking full payment of the amount shown on your invoice. Should you not already be in possession of such an authority or exemption, you are required to initially pay a deposit of 95% of the total invoice with the balance of 5% payable on presentation of your valid certificate or licence showing your authority to hold the firearm(s) concerned.

Please be advised that if a successful Bidder is then unable to produce the correct paperwork, the Lot(s) will be reoffered by Bonhams in the next appropriate Sale, on standard terms for Sellers, and you will be responsible for any loss incurred by Bonhams on the original Sale to you.

In the case of RFD certificates and Section 5 authorities, we wish to keep an up-to-date copy on file. Please supply us with a Fax or photocopy. It would be helpful if you could send us an updated copy whenever your certificate or authority is renewed or changed.

Lots marked 'S1' and bearing red labels are Section 1 firearms and require a valid British Firearms certificate, RFD Licence or import licence.

Lots marked 'S2' and bearing blue labels are Section 2 firearms and require a valid British Shotgun certificate, RFD licence or import licence.

18. FURNITURE

Upholstered Furniture

Whilst we take every care in cataloguing furniture which has been upholstered we offer no Guarantee as to the originality of the wood covered by fabric or upholstery.

19. JEWELLERY

Gemstones

Historically many gemstones have been subjected to a variety of treatments to enhance their appearance. Sapphires and rubies are routinely heat treated to improve their colour and clarity, similarly emeralds are frequently treated with oils or resin for the same purpose. Other treatments such as staining, irradiation or coating may have been used on other gemstones. These treatments may be permanent, whilst others may need special care or re-treatment over the years to retain their appearance. Bidders should be aware that Estimates assume that gemstones may have been subjected to such treatments. A number of laboratories issue certificates that give more detailed Descriptions of gemstones. However there may not be consensus between different laboratories on the degrees, or types of treatment for any particular gemstone. In the event that Bonhams has been given or has obtained certificates for any Lot in the Sale these certificates will be disclosed in the Catalogue. Although, as a matter of policy, Bonhams endeavours to provide certificates from recognised laboratories for certain gemstones, it is not feasible to obtain certificates for each Lot. In the event that no certificate is published in the Catalogue, Bidders should assume that the gemstones may have been treated. Neither Bonhams nor the Seller accepts any liability for contradictions or differing certificates obtained by Buyers on any Lots subsequent to the Sale.

Estimated Weights

If a stone(s) weight appears within the body of the Description in capital letters, the stone(s) has been unmounted and weighed by Bonhams. If the weight of the stone(s) is stated to be approximate and does not appear in capital letters, the stone(s) has been assessed by us within its/their settings, and the stated weight is a statement of our opinion only. This information is given as a guide and Bidders should satisfy themselves with regard to this information as to its accuracy.

Signatures

1. A diamond brooch, by Kutchinsky

When the maker's name appears in the title, in Bonhams' opinion the piece is by that maker.

2. A diamond brooch, signed Kutchinsky

Has a signature that, in Bonhams' opinion, is authentic but may contain gemstones that are not original, or the piece may have been altered.

3. A diamond brooch, mounted by Kutchinsky

Has been created by the jeweller, in Bonhams' opinion, but using stones or designs supplied by the client.

20. PHOTOGRAPHS

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

- "Bill Brandt": in our opinion a work by the artist.
- "Attributed to Bill Brandt": in our opinion probably a work by the artist, but less certainty to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category.
- "Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed": in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription are in the artist's hand.
- "Signed and/or titled and/or dated and/or inscribed in another hand": in our opinion the signature and/or title and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.
- The date given is that of the image (negative). Where no further date is given, this indicates that the photographic print is vintage (the term "vintage" may also be included in the Lot Description). A vintage photograph is one which was made within approximately 5-10 years of the negative. Where a second, later date appears, this refers to the date of printing. Where the exact printing date is not known, but understood to be later, "printed later" will appear in the Lot Description.
- Unless otherwise specified, dimensions given are those of the piece of paper on which the image is printed, including any margins. Some photographs may appear in the Catalogue without margins illustrated.
- All photographs are sold unframed unless stated in the Lot Description.

21. PICTURES

Explanation of Catalogue Terms

The following terms used in the Catalogue have the following meanings but are subject to the general provisions relating to Descriptions contained in the Contract for Sale:

- "Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion a work by the artist. When the artist's forename(s) is not known, a series of asterisks, followed by the surname of the artist, whether preceded by an initial or not, indicates that in our opinion the work is by the artist named;
- "Attributed to Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion probably a work by the artist but less certainty as to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category;
- "Studio/Workshop of Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion a work by an unknown hand in a studio of the artist which may or may not have been executed under the artist's direction;
- "Circle of Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion a work by a hand closely associated with a named artist but not necessarily his pupil;
- "Follower of Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion a work by a painter working in the artist's style, contemporary or nearly contemporary, but not necessarily his pupil;
- "Manner of Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion a work in the style of the artist and of a later date;
- "After Jacopo Bassano": in our opinion, a copy of a known work of the artist;
- "Signed and/or dated and/or inscribed": in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription are from the hand of the artist;
- "Bears a signature and/or date and/or inscription": in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription have been added by another hand.

22. PORCELAIN AND GLASS

Damage and Restoration

For your guidance, in our Catalogues we attempt to detail, as far as practicable, all significant defects, cracks and restoration. Such practicable Descriptions of damage cannot be definitive, and in providing Condition Reports, we cannot Guarantee that there are no other defects present which have not been mentioned. Bidders should satisfy themselves by inspection, as to the condition of each Lot. Please see the Contract for Sale printed in this Catalogue. Because of the difficulty in determining whether an item of glass has been repolished, in our Catalogues reference is only made to visible chips and cracks. No mention is made of repolishing, severe or otherwise.

23. VEHICLES

The Veteran Car Club of Great Britain

Dating Plates and Certificates

When mention is made of a Veteran Car Club Dating Plate or Dating Certificate in this Catalogue, it should be borne in mind that the Veteran Car Club of Great Britain using the services of Veteran Car Company Ltd, does from time to time, review cars already dated and, in some instances, where fresh evidence becomes available, the review can result in an alteration of date. Whilst the Club and Veteran Car Company Ltd make every effort to ensure accuracy, the date shown on the Dating Plate or Dating Certificate cannot be guaranteed as correct and intending purchasers should make their own enquiries as to the date of the car.

24. WINE

Lots which are lying under Bond and those liable to VAT may not be available for immediate collection.

Examining the wines

It is occasionally possible to provide a pre-Sale tasting for larger parcels (as defined below). This is generally limited to more recent and everyday drinking wines. Please contact the department for details.

It is not our policy to inspect every unopened case. In the case of wines older than 20 years the boxes will usually have been opened and levels and appearance noted in the Catalogue where necessary. You should make proper allowance for variations in ullage levels and conditions of corks, capsules and labels.

Corks and Ullages

Ullage refers to the space between the base of the cork and the wine. Ullage levels for Bordeaux shaped bottles are only normally noted when below the neck and for Burgundy, Alsace, German and Cognac shaped bottles when greater than 4 centimetres (cm). Acceptable ullage levels increase with age; generally acceptable levels are as follows:

Under 15 years old – into neck or less than 4cm
15 to 30 years old – top shoulder (ts) or up to 5cm
Over 30 years old – high shoulder (hs) or up to 6cm

It should be noted that ullages may change between publication of the Catalogue and the Sale and that corks may fail as a result of transporting the wine. We will only accept responsibility for Descriptions of condition at the time of publication of the Catalogue and cannot accept responsibility for any loss resulting from failure of corks either before or after this point.

Options to buy parcels

A parcel is a number of Lots of identical size of the same wine, bottle size and Description. The Buyer of any of these Lots has the option to accept some or all of the remaining Lots in the parcel at the same price, although such options will be at the Auctioneer's sole discretion. Absentee Bidders are, therefore, advised to bid on the first Lot in a parcel.

Wines in Bond

Wines lying in Bond are marked Δ. All Lots sold under Bond, and which the Buyer wishes to remain under Bond, will be invoiced without VAT or Duty on the Hammer Price. If the Buyer wishes to take the Lot as Duty paid, UK Excise Duty and VAT will be added to the Hammer Price on the invoice.

Buyers must notify Bonhams at the time of the sale whether they wish to take their wines under Bond or Duty paid. If a Lot is taken under Bond, the Buyer will be responsible for all VAT, Duty, clearance and other charges that may be payable thereon.

Buyers outside the UK must be aware that any forwarding agent appointed to export their purchases must have a movement certificate for Lots to be released under Bond.

CONTRACT FOR SALE

IMPORTANT: These terms may be changed in advance of the Sale of the Lot to you, by the setting out of different terms in the Catalogue for the Sale and/or by placing an insert in the Catalogue and/or by notices at the Sale venue and/or on Bonhams' website, and/or by oral announcements before and during the Sale at the Sale venue. You should be alert to this possibility of changes and ask in advance of bidding if there have been any.

Under this contract the Seller's liability in respect of the quality of the Lot, its fitness for any purpose and its conformity with any Description is limited. You are strongly advised to examine the Lot for yourself and/or obtain an independent examination of it before you buy it.

1 THE CONTRACT

- 1.1 These terms and the relevant terms for Bidders and Buyers in the Notice to Bidders govern the Contract for Sale of the Lot by the Seller to the Buyer.
- 1.2 The Definitions and Glossary contained in Appendix 3 in the Catalogue are incorporated into this Contract for Sale and a separate copy can also be provided by Bonhams on request. Where words and phrases are used which are in the List of Definitions, they are printed in italics.
- 1.3 The Seller sells the Lot as the principal to the Contract for Sale, such contract being made between the Seller and you through Bonhams which acts in the sole capacity as the Seller's agent and not as an additional principal. However, if the Catalogue states that Bonhams sells the Lot as principal, or such a statement is made by an announcement by the Auctioneer, or by a notice at the Sale, or an insert in the Catalogue, then Bonhams is the Seller for the purposes of this agreement.
- 1.4 The contract is made on the fall of the Auctioneer's hammer in respect of the Lot when it is knocked down to you.

2 SELLER'S UNDERTAKINGS

- 2.1 The Seller undertakes to you that:
 - 2.1.1 the Seller is the owner of the Lot or is duly authorised to sell the Lot by the owner;
 - 2.1.2 save as disclosed in the Entry for the Lot in the Catalogue, the Seller sells the Lot with full title guarantee or, where the Seller is an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator, with whatever right, title or interest he may have in the Lot;
 - 2.1.3 except where the Sale is by an executor, trustee, liquidator, receiver or administrator the Seller is both legally entitled to sell the Lot, and legally capable of conferring on you quiet possession of the Lot and that the Sale conforms in every respect with the terms implied by the Sale of Goods Act 1979, Sections 12(1) and 12(2) (see the Definitions and Glossary);
 - 2.1.4 the Seller has complied with all requirements, legal or otherwise, relating to any export or import of the Lot, and all duties and taxes in respect of the export or import of the Lot have (unless stated to the contrary in the Catalogue or announced by the Auctioneer) been paid and, so far as the Seller is aware, all third parties have complied with such requirements in the past;
 - 2.1.5 subject to any alterations expressly identified as such made by announcement or notice at the Sale venue or by the Notice to Bidders or by an insert in the Catalogue or on the Bonhams website, the Lot corresponds with the Contractual Description of the Lot, being that part of the Entry about the Lot in the Catalogue which is in bold letters and (except for colour) with any photograph of the Lot in the Catalogue.

3 DESCRIPTIONS OF THE LOT

- 3.1 Paragraph 2.1.5 sets out what is the Contractual Description of the Lot. In particular, the Lot is not sold as corresponding with any part of the Entry in the Catalogue which is not printed in bold letters, the remainder of which Entry merely sets out (on the Seller's behalf) Bonhams' opinion about the Lot and which is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold. Any statement or representation other than that part of the Entry referred to in paragraph 2.1.5 (together with any express alteration to it as referred to in paragraph 2.1.5), including any Description or Estimate, whether made orally or in writing, including in the Catalogue or on Bonhams' Website, or by conduct, or otherwise, and whether by or on behalf of the Seller or Bonhams and whether made prior to or during the Sale, is not part of the Contractual Description upon which the Lot is sold.
- 3.2 Except as provided in paragraph 2.1.5, the Seller does not make or give and does not agree to make or give any contractual promise, undertaking, obligation, guarantee, warranty, or representation of fact, or undertake any duty of care, in relation to any Description of the Lot or any Estimate in relation to it, nor of the accuracy or completeness of any Description or Estimate which may have been Bonhams. No such Description or Estimate is incorporated into this Contract for Sale.

Payment must be made to Bonhams by one of the methods stated in the Notice to Bidders unless otherwise agreed with you in writing by Bonhams . the Entry in the Catalogue in respect of the Lot reflected the then accepted general opinion of scholars and experts or fairly indicated that there was a conflict of such opinion; or it can be established that the Lot is a non-conforming Lot only by means of a process not generally accepted for use until after the date on which the Catalogue was published or by means of a process which it was unreasonable in all the circumstances for us to have employed; or the Lot comprises atlases, maps, autographs, manuscripts, extra illustrated books, music or periodical publications; or the Lot was listed in the Catalogue under "collections" or "collections and various" or the Lot was stated in the Catalogue to comprise or contain a collection, issue or Books which are undescribed or the missing text or illustrations are referred to or the relevant parts of the Book contain blanks, half titles or advertisements.

If we are reasonably satisfied that a Lot is a non-conforming Lot, we will (as principal) purchase the Lot from you and you will transfer the title to the Lot in question to us, with full title guarantee, free from any liens, charges, encumbrances and adverse claims and we will pay to you an amount equal to the sum of the Purchase Price and Buyer's Premium paid by you in respect of the Lot.

The benefit of paragraph 10 is personal to, and incapable of assignment by, you and if you sell or otherwise dispose of your interest in the Lot, all rights and benefits under this paragraph will cease.

12 MISCELLANEOUS

12.1 You may not assign either the benefit or burden of this agreement.

12.2 Our failure or delay in enforcing or exercising any power or right under this agreement will not operate or be deemed to operate as a waiver of our rights under it except to the extent of any express waiver given to you in writing. Any such waiver will not affect our ability subsequently to enforce any right arising under this agreement.

12.3 If either party to this agreement is prevented from performing that party's respective obligations under this agreement by circumstances beyond its reasonable control or if performance of its obligations would by reason of such circumstances give rise to a significantly increased financial cost to it, that party will not, for so long as such circumstances prevail, be required to perform such obligations. This paragraph does not apply to the obligations imposed on you by paragraph 3.

12.4 Any notice or other communication to be given under this agreement must be in writing and may be delivered by hand or sent by first class post or air mail or fax transmission (if to Bonhams marked for the attention of the Company Secretary), to the address or fax number of the relevant party given in the Contract Form (unless notice of any change of address is given in writing). It is the responsibility of the sender of the notice or communication to ensure that it is received in a legible form within any applicable time period.

12.5 If any term or any part of any term of this agreement is held to be unenforceable or invalid, such unenforceability or invalidity will not affect the enforceability and validity of the remaining terms or the remainder of the relevant term.

12.6 References in this agreement to Bonhams will, where appropriate, include reference to Bonhams' officers, employees and agents.

12.7 The headings used in this agreement are for convenience only and will not affect its interpretation.

12.8 In this agreement "including" means "including, without limitation".

12.9 References to the singular will include reference to the plural (and vice versa) and reference to any one gender will include reference to the other genders.

12.10 Reference to a numbered paragraph is to a paragraph of this agreement.

12.11 Save as expressly provided in paragraph 12.12 nothing in this agreement confers (or purports to confer) on any person who is not a party to this agreement any benefit conferred by, or the right to enforce any term of, this agreement.

12.12 Where this agreement confers an immunity from, and/or an exclusion or restriction of, the responsibility and/or liability of Bonhams, it will also operate in favour and for the benefit of Bonhams' holding company and the subsidiaries of such holding company and the successors and assigns of Bonhams and of such companies and of any officer, employee and agent of Bonhams and such companies, each of whom will be entitled to rely on the relevant immunity and/or exclusion and/or restriction within and for the purposes of Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, which enables the benefit of a contract to be extended to a person who is not a party to the contract, and generally at law.

13 GOVERNING LAW

All transactions to which this agreement applies and all connected matters will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of that part of the United Kingdom where the Sale takes (or is to take) place and we and you each submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of that part of the United Kingdom, save that we may bring proceedings against you in any other court of competent jurisdiction to the extent permitted by the laws of the relevant jurisdiction. Bonhams has a complaints procedure in place.
